This is a picture of the truck which transports an iron lung used to aid persons afflicted with infantile paralysis to breathe. Occupant of this iron lung is 20-year-old Mary Lou Baker. The apparatus will be exhibited in front of the court house Monday and Tuesday as part of the Sister Kenny Foundation drive.

U. S. MAY JOIN TWO AGENCIES

Merger of OPA and CPA Reported Near; May Include Others.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—Its low-cost clothing program junked, the government reportedly was on the verge today of lumping OPA, CPA and possible some other wartime agencies into a single liquidating unit.

This followup to President Truman's sweeping decontrol order last weekend has been the subject of conferences among stablization director John R. Steelman, budget bureau officials and representatives of the extinction-bound agencies themselves.

At their peak they held a tight grip on most prices and much of the nation's production and distribution facilities.

APO, which now has control only over rent, sugar, syrup and rice ceilings, last night announced plans to whittle its present staff of around 34,000 workers down to 15,600 by Feb. 1 and to reduce its 64 district offices to branch status by Dec. 1

Simultaneously, the civilian production administration took another long step toward casting off its remaining restraints by abolishing the low-cost clothing program.

Under that setup textile manufacturers were required to channel specific percentages of their output to clothing makers who were required to produce centain quantities of low and medium priced garments.

"The termination of all price controls on textiles," CPA said, "has made (this) no longer practicable. There is no basis for continuing these restrictions either on the producers of the fabric or on the manufacturers of the clothing."

Will Help Boost Drive for Sister Kenny Hospital Fund.

Miss Mary Lou Baker—the Girl in the Iron Lung—is going to visit Marion. She will be here Nov. 18 and 19 to show the people of this community how the dread infantile paralysis can strike down a person regardless of age, creed or color and to enlist their aid in our common fight against polio so that others may be spared its crippling blow.

The exhibit will arrive here Monday at 10 a. m. and will be on view on East Center street in front of the court house.

Feature of Drive

Miss Baker's appearance will be a feature of the Sister Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation drive which will be conducted here during the next three weeks.

There will be no admission charge to see pretty 20-year-old Mary Lou in the especially-built trailer shown above which carries the American Iron Lung in which she has been forced to spend so much of her time in order to live and breathe. Sponsored by the Ohio Chapter of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation of which R. Kenneth Kerr, Lancaster Eagle-Gazette publisher, is chairman, the mobile unit is touring Ohio cities so that thousands of people may actually see how a victim of poliomyelitis who must resort to an iron lung to live does so.

In commenting on this mobile unit, Mr. Kerr said, "You, like hundreds of others, will say Mary Lou is a very brave and courageous young lady and you will want to meet and talk with her personally which she will be happy to have you do."

Rendered so helpless by paralysis that she could not breathe by her own effort, Mary Lou survived in the iron lung, which breathes for her—from 16 to 18 times a minute, which is the average breathing of a person. The iron lung simply acts as a bellows, forcing the diaphram of the pa-

To Reign or Not To Reign Is Question for "Mrs. America"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15—The "Mrs. America" crown weighed heavily on the Pollock household today.

It presented this problem:

Should Mrs. Janice Pollock, 24-year-old brunette beauty, retain the title and make a six-month tour of the country, or abdicate and stay at home with her husband and four children?

The husband, salesman Marion S. Pollock, announced last night after his wife flew here from Jackson, Miss., where she won the honor and $2,500, that she would abdicate.

This morning, however, he said she might remain on the throne after all. Burt Titcomb, manager of the contest in which Mrs. Pollock was chosen, also flew here from Jackson and planned to go into a huddle with the Pollocks. He expressed confidence that Mrs. Pollock would remain "Mrs. America."

Earlier, Husband Pollock had taken this position:

"I'm proud that she won the title, but I'm prouder that she give it up for the kids," Pollock said of his wife.

The two older of the kids, Susan, 6, and Tommy, 5, were with their dad at the airport to greet the "Queen of Housewives," while Mark, 2, and Bobby, ten months, slept.

"More Important Than Glory"

"Janice decided it was far more important to stay here and be a mother to the children than any amount of glory or money from the contest," Pollock told a reporter. When she thought it over, he added, she agreed "six months is quite a chunk out of the lives of four little kids under six years old."

U.S. EXPENSE SLASH ASKED

G.O.P. Representative Thinks Cut of 9 Billion Could Be Effected.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—A nine billion dollar reduction in the federal budget, accompanied by dismissal of at least 1,000,000 civilion government workers, was recommended today by Rep Taber (R-NY), who will head the house appropriations committee in the new congress.

At a news conference, Taber told reporters the $9,000,000,000 is the minimum "we might hope to save."

He proposed that the estimated 2,300,000 civilian employes of the government be reduced by at least $1 000,000 to affect a saving of $3,000,000,000. This cut, he said, can be made "without damaging the efficiency of the government."

Can Save on Army

Taber said a saving of $2,500,000,000, could be made on non-occurring items of expense for the army and the navy; another $1,500,000,000 could be retrieved from other agencies "including unnecessary construction programs."

Taber said non-recurring items connected with terminal leave payments to former service personnel should result in a saving of at least $2,000,000,000. Most of the service personnel entitled to these payments already have received them.

Taber declared "I'll need more than a meat axe" to chop government spending down to the size of its income next year.

"I'll need a sledge hammer," he said.

"Honesty and efficiency in administration and the elimination of chair bottomers would bring this about," he commented.

20 Per Cent Tax Cut

Taber reiterated his belief that the 20 per cent personal income tax reduction promised by Republicans will not result in reduced revenues.

"Business is throttled by high taxes and it needs an incentive to begin to roll," he said.

In addition to the $9,000,000,000, Taber said savings could be made in the new budget on many other items.

"It is going to be necessary to make the government departments hew to line," he went on.

"There is hardly a department of the government that has not twice as many employes as it needs. An immediate survey of the whole picture is going to be had after the first of January. We cannot stand for any more of the failure on the part of the departments to do their duty."

Taber expressed disappointment over an announcement by the OPA that its personnel will be reduced to 16,000 by Jan. 31. The OPA, he said, should not have more than 16,000 employes by Nov. 30 and should reduce to 5,000 by Dec. 15.

DEPOT TO SELL GOODS VALUED AT $2,350,000

Event To Open Nov. 25 and Continue Through Dec. 9.

Sale of more than $2,350,000 worth of surplus government property at the Marion Engineer Depot east of Marion will open Nov. 25 and continue through Dec. 9, according to an announcement today from the war assets administration regional office in Cleveland.

Over 1,500 items will be sold during the period, it is estimated, in the first step to clear out all surplus commodities at the depot.

The sale, which officials term as an "on site" sale, will permit buyers to purchase materials there or place their orders. Erice tags are on all items, the same as they are in commercial stores, officials said.

Schedule of Priorities

A schedule of priorities has been set up by the war assets administration for the purchase of the material, with specific sale dates for agencies and individuals.

Federal agencies have first priority. Their inspection date and sale period is Nov. 25 and 26. Certified veterans have second priority and they may purchase property Nov. 27 and 29 and Dec. 2.

Small businesses, through the reconstruction finance corporation, will have third priority, their inspection and sale dates being Dec. 3 and 4. Surplus commodities may be purchased by state and local governments and their instrumentalities on Dec 5 and eligible non-profit institutions, including schools and hospitals on Dec. 6.

Sale date for non-priority buyers has been set for Dec. 9.

Sale hours will be from 9 a. m to 3 p. m. and there will be no sales on Saturdays, Sundays or holidays. For the purpose of inspection, samples of many items are arranged for display in the sales room at the east end of Warehouse No. 2.

Certified Veterans

Only veterans of World War II, previously certified to purchase surplus property, shall be allowed to buy at this sale. Veterans who wish to be certified may go to their nearest war assets administration certifying office.

Those applicants wishing to buy through RFC should obtain certification form 380 at their respective branch or regional RFC office before attending the sale

Terms of the sale will be cash or credit. If credit terms are desired, they must be arranged in advance through the war assets administration regional or branch office. The right is reserved to limit the quantity of items sold to the individual purchaser.

JOB OFFICES RETURN TO STATE CONTROL

Marion Branch Affected by Shift Tonight.

The Marion office of the United States Employment Service will be among the 1,800 field offices throughout the nation which will be returned to state control at midnight tonight after nearly five years of federal operation.

Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Marion office, reported the changeover will in no way change the status of the employer or the applicant and that his office staff also will remain unchanged.

Under the new setup, the employment service will be under the direction of the bureau of unemployment compensation.

According to an Associated Press dispatch today USES director Robert C. Goodwin issued a valedictory statement saying he was confident the states "will capitalize on the gains made" while the government ran the show and "seek to extend and improve the services available to the public."

The system, established by the states with federal help in 1933 to channel jobless workers to vacant jobs, was taken over by the government in January 1942 to deal with the wartime manpower shortages.

Congress directed its return on this date after an unsuccessful administration attempt to delay the switch until next July 1.

Sen. Connally Outlines 9-Point American Program.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 15—The United States announced its firm stand today against any amendment of the United Nations charter to eliminate or modify the big power veto privileges in the security council.

At the same time it called on the other four major powers to restrict the use of the veto voluntarily to "the very rare and exceptional cases."

The American position was set forth in a 9-point program by Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex), first representative of the big powers to reply to the attack on the veto which was launched in the general assembly's 51-member political and security committee yesterday by six small nations.

Connally warned bluntly that "division between the great powers over intervention or the use of force might result in war instead of peace" but declared that the veto must not be used to "frustrate" the functioning of the council.

Russia Not Mentioned

He did not mention Russia by name, but in what appeared to be a reference to the frequent use of the veto by the Soviet Union he declared that the permanent members of the council "have no right to cast a vote in any narrow or nationalistic or selfish interest."

"Let there be no embezzlement of power by the security council or by any member," he said.

Connally declared flatly that "any amendment to the charter is impossible at this time," but expressed the hope that agreement among the five big powers "may make it possible in the future to modify" the use of the veto.

Lists 9-Point Policy

The American position, Conally said, is as follows

"1. We regard the principle of unanimity as of the highest importance for the success of the United Nations.

"2. We believe that the responsibility imposed upon the great powers by the charter requires them to exert every effort to reach agreement on important issues before the security council.

"3 We reaffirm the position we took at San Francisco that the veto should be used only in the very rare and exceptional cases

"4. We insist that the use of the veto can not relieve any state from its fundamental obligations under the charter.

"5 We do not favor amendment of the charter at this time, although we hope that full agreement including of course that of the five permanent members may make it possible in the future to modify the practice of great power unanimity as it applies to the peaceful settlement of disputes under Chapter VI.

"7. We believe that the voting formula should be clarified in the light of experience and practical need. The security council should embark upon this task at the earliest practicable time.

"8. We believe that Article 27 makes it clear that in the field of peaceful Settlement no state should be a judge in its own cause

"9 The problem of great power abstention should be carefully considered, particularly with respect to the peaceful settlement of disputes"

U. S. GERMAN ZONE LEADS RECOVERY

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Nov. 15—Figures released by the American military government today showed the United States zone of Germany leading all others in internal zonal trade and making greater economic recovery than the other three zones.

Although the American zone by normal standards would be third in export for interzonal trade for the four zones of Germany, the report revealed American zone efforts to put German trade on a strong footing surpassed all others.

The Russian controlled press has often claimed the Russian zone of Germany was doing a better production and recovery job than the other zones. This was not borne out by the figures in the military government's monthly report.

6 Recommendations for Ending Ohio's Teacher Shortage Made

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Six recommendations for ending Ohio's shortage of public school teachers and for improving instructor standards were offered today to the state education department's committee on teacher recruitment.

The six point program was drafted by a sub-committee at a session to which representatives of 24 statewide organizations were invited by State Education Director Clyde Hissong.

The teacher recruitment committee is part of a group formed last April to attack the three-fold problem of teacher recruitment, pre-service teacher education, and in-service education of instructors.

$2,000 Guarantee Recommended

The sub-committee recommended:

"Sufficient increase of state support in the minimum or foundation program to enable weak or additional aid school districts to guarantee their teachers an average salary of $2,000 or more.

"Enforcement of the established state policy that teachers be required to have a four-year provisional certificate or better.

Continuation of the rehabilitation program with funds approximating $5,000,000 for the biennium rather than the present totally inadequate $2,000,000.

Better Organization

"That the state aspire to a better school district organization including the attainment of a full, 12-year program in every school district with a consequent better distribution of available, qualified teachers a more uniform and satisfactory pull-teacher ratio and a reduction in the number of subjects and grades taught by a teacher.

"That all universities and colleges of Ohio be urged to give first priority in admissions to a suitable number of students who

ANNOUNCES END OF CONTRACT AFTER 5 DAYS

Indicates Strike Wednesday Unless Further Steps Are Taken.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 — John L. Lewis announced today the end of his contract with the government in five days, at Wednesday midnight.

Lewis' action apparently meant that the United Mine Workers will not mine coal after Nov. 20.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—President Truman announced today the rejection by John L. Lewis of a proposal by Secretary of Interior Krug for settlement of the coal wage dispute.

At the same time the President, terming the government's proposal "fair and equitable," called for its "serious reconsideration."

In a formal statement, Mr. Truman said the government cannot replace private management as the bargaining agent with the coal miners "without interfering with true collective bargaining between management and labor."

Owners Agree

Krug's proposal, the President said, "has been accepted by the bituminous coal mine operators' negotiating committee."

Mr. Truman's statement was issued at the White House shortly after Mr. Truman boarded the yacht Williamsburg for a trip to Annapolis. The President's departure had been delayed about an hour by last-minute conferences with Krug and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Krug proposed to convene the mine workers and the operators' committee tomorrow or soon thereafter for a two months bargaining session. During this truce, the present contract would remain in operation.

Under the proposal, which was attached to the President's formal statement, the mines would be returned to private operators by Jan. 16 if no prior agreement could be reached.

Considers It Fair

The President said he was "thoroughly familiar with this proposal and I consider it eminently fair to both mine workers and operators."

For the first time, Mr. Truman disclosed that Attorney General Tom Clark had taken the same position as Krug in holding that the present operating contract was "clearly applicable for the full period of government operation."

The President said the attorney general "further informs me that it makes no provision for reopening, without mutual consent, to discuss new wages, hours or other employment terms."

"It was intended to be replaced by a direct employer-union contract," Mr. Truman said.

The President's move clearly placed the next step up to Lewis.

Krug, Truman Confer

Presidential Secretary Eben Ayers told reporters that Secretary of the Interior Krug conferred with Mr. Truman at the White House for "a few minutes" yesterday and saw him again today at the regular cabinet meeting.

Krug has been running the mines since the government seized them last May to end a strike.

Ayers declined to say what Krug had discussed with the President in connection with his talks with Lewis and other United Mine Workers officials. Both sides have kept silent on the progress, if any, these talks have made.

Asked if the President had intervened in the coal situation, Ayers said not to his knowledge.

He said that Reconversion Director John R. Steelman, the President's advisor on labor matters, was present part of the time during yesterday's conference with Krug.

Time Draws Near

The time drew near for Lewis to announce a decision on whether he will "void" his contract with the government and thus close down the mines.

Sphinx-like as usual, the United Mine Workers' chief gave no advance sign whether he intended to terminate his government contract five days hence — next Wednesday midnight. Such a step would automatically flash the green light for a walkout then by his 400,000 diggers.

One high official told a reporter privately that Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug was hopeful

City Ice and Fuel Co. Raises Dividend Rate

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—Directors of the City Ice and Fuel company today raised the annual dividend rate on the common stock to $2 per share from $1.60, by declaring a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 10. The company has been paying 40 cents a quarter heretofore. William J. Sinek is president of the company.

Indications are that net earnings for the year 1946 will be in excess of $4 per share compared with $2.41 per share in 1945.

The company is continuing its accelerated program of diversification. The increased earnings are largely attributed to the activity of the brewery, cold storage, fuel and ice cream divisions, and the increased sales of cubed and prepared packaged ice.

Cash exceeds $13,000,000, working capital $15,000,000, and earned surplus more than $8,000,000.

City Ice and Fuel enjoys a continuous dividend record of over 52 years.

Boyle Gives Tip On Overseas Christmas Gifts

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 — The time is drawing short for sending Christmas packages overseas.

And for hundreds of thousands of people in foreign lands it will be a pleasant or melancholy season depending on whether they receive remembrances from the United States.

Hal Boyle

Uncle Sam, this year, more than ever, will have to be the international Santa Claus. Returned soldiers will want to send something to wartime friends abroad. Millions of Americans, of course, also have relatives in foreign countries, and there are many, many thousand troops still stationed in distant outposts, safeguarding the peace.

None of them will be looking any gift horses in the mouth, but a little care in the selection of presents may make considerable difference in the enthusiasm with which they will be received.

The main idea: give something useful rather than clever.

During the war, for example, the boys in heat harbors like Manila and Calcutta got a little weary of pulling wool scarves and earmuffs out of crumpled Christmas boxes. Soldiers fighting at the front in Africa didn't think any more of Aunt Nelly for sending them a brightly colored necktie. One Was got a set of poker chips.

Leave Sour Note

Such gifts left a distinctly sour note. They were as out of place as a hiccup at a W. C. T. U. meeting, as useless as a watchfob on a penguin. And they made the boys and girls in uniform pretty sore at the thoughtless but well-meaning folks back home.

Similarly, a culture-oozing lady in America who this year remembers a pre-war woman friend in England by shipping her an etching of the New York skyline can expect a cool note of gratitude in exchange.

English women would much rather have a pair of good stockings, a few old or new bedsheets and pillowcases, or a carton of soap. If they have children, their heart will go out to you for garments warm and wearable for the youngsters.

Shoes Welcome

In any war-touched country shoes and clothing—never mind if they're a little worn—are more welcome than manna. (Modern manna is a sweetish substance obtained by incisions in the stems of various southern European shrubs and is mildly laxative.)

If you know their intellectual preferences, friends abroad would be happy to get a packet of new books. Everywhere there is an increasing interest in American books, and the supply is scarce.

Other suggestions:

Boxes of food and candy are highly desirable gifts in most foreign countries. Include at least one delicacy you think they might have missed most; one touch of high-living can soften many bleak hours. Send peppermints only if you can't get chocolates.

Household Gadgets Appreciated

Thermos flasks and all kinds of household gadgets are in short supply. They'll like them. If the gift box is going to natives of Germany and central Europe, put in some balls of yarn for darning, some thread, several sizes of needles.

Don't send cigarets and cigars to friends in England or France unless you know they can afford to pay higher customs duties.

Now for the boys still in service abroad. Don't annoy them with those funny little foxhole pillows. They are as out-of-date as foxholes.

Fruitcakes are all right, but it's best to give also some personal individual gift based on what you know they like or need. If they are in Germany or Japan, send along a few extra bucks or a carton or so of cigarets.

Either the bucks or the cigarets will finance them for an evening out with an army-approved Fraulein or one of Madame Butterfly's granddaughters. And you can be sure of one thing — they won't talk about the war.

New Guineans Seek To Retain War Luxuries

By The Associated Press

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — An economic and social revolution is in progress in the Australian mandated territory of New Guinea, where Australians, Americans and Japanese waged some of the most bitter struggles of the Pacific war.

It amounts to a struggle between the handful of white administrators, planters and traders trying to restore pre-war standards and 1,000,000 unorganized natives trying to retain the comparative luxury standards they had during the war when working for the armed forces.

The natives were paid about $6,000,000 during the war in wages and compensation money. They now are sitting back on this money and resisting calls for labor unless offered good wages.

Before the war, they were paid $1.25 a month. But, during the war, they were paid up to $2.50 a month, and want this rate continued. During the war, they were fed on such European foods as tinned meat and fish, and developed a liking for them. Now they show no inclination to get back to their pre-war diet of sweet potatoes..

Before the war, they were provided with lap-laps, a wrap-around skirt, costing about five cents. During the war the Australian Army provided them with lap-laps of good English cloth costing up to one dollar. They now have the taste for good quality cloth and will not easily change back to the cheap pre-war quality.

They have gained an exaggerated sense of money values. American and Australian soldiers would often pay them up to one dollar each for a tropical fruit, for which they were lucky to get one cent before the war.

Negro churches in the States are valued at approx ly $164,531,531.

Nailing Down a Lie

A LIGHT popular vote had nothing to do with the outcome of the 1946 elections. This is a political lie put into circulation to fool the gullible. One of its sources is Henry Wallace.

More than 30,000,000 voters went to the polls, surpassing all previous records for a midterm election. It was the heaviest vote in history in any national election when the presidency was not at stake.

Part of the lie being circulated to gloss over the popular rebuke to a party which had abused its trust is the statement that if more voters had gone to the polls they would have en masse for New Deal candidates. The fact is election analysts studying Republican victories in such party-machine strongholds as Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh declare that masses of working people in those places switched to Republican candidates this year. It is known that many Democrats who were sick of voting for the outsiders who had moved in on their party stayed away from the polls because they could not stomach political deception any more, yet were unwilling to switch parties.

It may be smart propaganda to circulate the lie that a light vote had more to do with the election's outcome than the disgust of the majority of the people. But it isn't true. The total vote set a new record for off-year elections. Never before were more voters more intent on expressing their feelings about the nature of their representation in congress. There was no victory by default, there were no losses by accident.

South for the Winter

THE decision to send a 4,000-man expedition to the Antarctic under Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd seems sudden, and it probably is.

A sudden decision would be more than warranted by the fact that Soviet Russia, the only other major power vitally interested in military maneuvers in extremely cold climates, also is sending an expedition to the Antarctic. Since Great Britain also is believed to have some kind of a colony there, left over from wartime operations, the famous penguins may be crowded out by human beings intensely interested in learning how penguins survive and remain active at low temperatures.

The importance of the Arctic in plans for military security now is axiomatic. The Antarctic, up until now, rarely had been mentioned. Its importance stems from two facts. First, it is similar to the Arctic, which makes it a good training ground for military experiments in cold climates. Second, the Antarctic is newly important for reasons of global geography. It is within easy flying distance of three of the world's great land masses—Africa, South America and Australia. As Wendell Willkie foresaw, aviation has made one world of many, though not in the hopeful sense he dreamed of.

First Principles, Then Statutes

FRANCIS BIDDLE, former U. S. attorney general and American member of the Allied military tribunal which conducted the Nuernberg trials, recommends that the principles used at the trials be codified as international criminal law.

This will be a further affront to the legal minds which objected to the trials of the Nuernberg defendants. They will point to it as confirmation of their contention that the defendants were tried under laws which did not exist at the time of the alleged crimes. Not only was there no code of international criminal law in existence when the offenses were committed, but it was not in existence when the trials were held and may not be in existence for years to come, if ever. Unless the United Nations can be held together, there may not even be an international authority to create and enforce such a group of statutes as Mr. Biddle contemplates.

But if the same legal minds are fired with devotion to an ever-expanding body of constitutional and statutory law to guide human action, they will now give Mr. Biddle full support. He has recognized the condition which they objected to. He has proposed, in effect, that against the possibility of another war and another set of international criminals to be disposed of by some means closer to the spirit of legal justice than a firing squad a codification of the principles of internal law used at Nuernberg be undertaken immediately.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Leftist Commentators Parading Imaginary Fears.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—The babble of radio commentators is setting up a false alarm. Dire consequences, imaginable and unimaginable, are being retailed as fact!

One sensational string of brightly colored predictions is being hung up on the air bands, picturing the resignation of State Secretary Byrnes and the overthrow of American foreign policy at home. These gaudy suggestions come mostly from the local leftist news purveyors who are suffering either from melancholia over their election repudiation or their customary over-indulgence in prophecy. Indeed this state of affairs has become so severe in the radio business that one commentator mentioned his fellow radio prophet by name and said if the prophet could go crazy with a microphone weekly for a big stipend, the list of crazy prophets would be enlarged.

When Mr. Byrnes heard he was to resign Jan. 1 because of his health, he smiled and said he had yet been unable to find any physician who would recommend that he quit his job. The truth is Mr. Byrnes is the only man alive whose health has actually been improved by arguing with the Russians.

Chances Remote

The chances of change in foreign policy, from such causes as are being advertised, are too remote to be considered. They were exaggerated first by some Democratic orators in the campaign, and these exaggerations are now coming home to roost. Why they even managed to scarce the British, and persuaded such a supposedly sensible journal as the London Economist to mourn heavily about tariff and trade prospects.

The Republican party is being represented by the unthinking as an ogre represented by the Smoot-Hawley high tariff law. This in itself is a grotesque exaggeration. A Republican president signed that law unwillingly, issuing a public statement against it. The unfairly high rates were due to a deal made secretly in the senate between certain eastern industrial senators and the farm bloc to over-ride Hoover, who was moderate in the matter, and they did over-ride him. None of the same elements of that history (which is now being falsified) is today present. The problems of international trade have grown so far out of the tariff question into the realm of money valuations, treasury-controlled exchange, barter deals, exclusive foreign trade treaties, etc., as to make tariffs a secondary if not minor factor in trade. If you do not understand these matters intimately (few claim to) then all can at least see that the theory of the Republican tariff was to keep prices up, whereas today prices are too high. Also the philosophy of the Republican tariff act of 25 years ago was one of isolation, to build up American industry by protecting its high prices against foreign competition, whereas today all the Republicans are leaders for a world foreign policy in an atomic era. The tariff question has thus become almost inconsequential in all aspects, actual and political. All the Republican leaders are actually talking about planning developments which will make things work better, while the leftists (including the Communists and also the British in this instance), are trying to hang a stale 20-year-old wreath on their heads after their victory.

Secondary

The only foreign policy changes therefore, are apt to be of secondary importance. More vital and real is the prospect that Senator Vandenberg will be given increasing importance in the top councils with Byrnes, because the Michigan senator will now be chairman of the foreign relations committee. You will have something like genuine two party unity prospects at the top, not an invited social cooperation, but a prospect of actual results from negotiations of two forces with power. Yet not even the personnel of councilors will change to any significant extent.

Apparently then no one wants isolation, and no one wants a high tariff wall.

The leftists who want to horsewhip the people with false notions for voting Republican are apparently influencing the radio commentators with obsolete ideas.

Count Me Not A Brewster Booster

Senator Brewster of Maine has called for another investigation of Pearl Harbor.

This is where I came in.

The probe of what happened Dec. 7, 1941 has been reopened more regularly than the Mine Workers' contract.

It has already cost us more to investigate Pearl Harbor than to avenge it.

They've implicated everybody but Mrs. O'Leary's cow. But still Brewster isn't satisfied. He's convinced the Japs were merely accessories after the fact.

Brewster will go down in history as the only man ever to make a life's work out of an inquest.

Such matters are not covered by the statute of limitations. Neither, luckily for Brewster, is the public patience.

Successor To Stalin?

Malenkov Is Veteran in Russian Affairs.

G. M. MALENKOV

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW — Georgii Maximilianovich Malenkov, who was recently appointed to the important council of ministers, has been spoken of in British quarters as a possible successor to Prime Minister Joseph Stalin himself.

Though now only 45 years old, Malenkov fought through the Russian Revolution as a volunteer and joined the Communist party in 1921, thereafter climbing rapidly to political power. His new job puts him in the top executive body of the U.S.S.R.

Before being relieved of his duties in the presidium of the supreme Soviet to become a vice chairman of the ministerial council, he had been one of the secretaries of the central committee of the Communist party, a member of the organizational bureau of the party and a member of the politburo.

In one of his most recent public speeches, the sandy-haired, firm-eyed organizer said, "It is no secret that friends respect us because we are strong."

When Germany attacked the Soviet Union in 1941, he became a member of the state committee for defense. His work in increasing the production of planes won him the Order of Lenin and later the award of Hero of Socialist Labor.

As a vice chairman of the council, Malenkov will be working with the top leaders. Beside Stalin, his colleagues are: Foreign Minister V. I. Molotov, L. P. Beria, Andrei Andreyev, A. I. Mikoyan, Alexei Kosygin, L. M. Kaganovich.

One Worry Over

As goes southeastern Massachusetts, so goes the nation. The saying applies to cranberries, not politics.

Two-thirds of the nation's annual ruby tide of the berry that adds zest to Thanksgiving and Christmas turkey normally comes from the Cape Cod district. The 1946 harvest, now virtually complete, runs true to the two-thirds rule.

Occasionally—1944 was an example—the Cape Cod crop falls short of expectations, notes National Geographic society, and the berry is scarce. Turkey eaters, honing their appetites this season, however, will not want for cranberry sauce.

Harvesters, working with slotted scoops and nimble fingers through most of September and October, have combed the nation's bogs to gather a total yield of more than 800,000 barrels. The crop is second only to the 1937 output of 877,300 barrels. In 1942 as well as in 1937, Massachusetts marshes produced a few thousand barrels more than their estimated total of 550,000 barrels for the present crop.

New Jersey, usually second among cranberry states, accounts for less than one-tenth of the current harvest. But each of the western cranberry states—Wisconsin, Washington, and Oregon—achieves a new quantity record. Wisconsin supplies one-sixth of the 1946 total.

When the Pilgrims at Plymouth in 1620 gave thanks and ate wild turkey, cranberries colored the marshes close to their settlement. It was only a century ago, however, that the era of cranberry cultivation dawned on Cape Cod and in New Jersey. Cranberry pioneers moved into central Wisconsin bogs in the 1850's, and made a small start on the Pacific Coast in 1885.

Today, more than 50 million dollars is invested in the scientific business of growing and processing cranberries.

Atomic Strategy Takes Form

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—One can just begin to discern the outlines of the future strategy for dealing with the question of internationalization of atomic energy, which a wise man has called "the life or death question of the twentieth century." As previously reported here, the Atomic Energy Commission is completing its investigations. It remains to secure Soviet cooperation in effective international control of the incalculably great, incalculably dangerous resources to which the atomic physicists have found the key. For this purpose, three main steps are under consideration.

First, the American and other Western representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission will accept any compromises which do not endanger the essential principle of the effectiveness of international atomic control. Perhaps even the veto issue may be compromised, although this is not sure.

Appeal To Stalin

Second, if the Soviets still hold out, the American and other commission members feel strongly that a final personal appeal must be made to Generalissimo Stalin himself. It is felt that Stalin might be persuaded to alter his national policy by a deputation of such western leaders as Secretary of State James F. Byrnes accompanied by members and experts of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Third, the plea to Stalin would be reinforced by a prior decision to establish an International Atomic Development Authority, whether the Soviets joined or not. The authority would comprise the United States, Great Britain, Canada and some or all of the other nations now willing to work together on the basis of the Acheson-Lilienthal-Oppenheimer control plan. The proposed authority would almost certainly continue manufacture of atomic weapons. Thus the prospect of its establishment without the Soviet Union would powerfully influence Stalin towards cooperation.

None of these three steps has as yet been agreed upon at the highest policy level. President Truman and Secretary Byrnes have emphatically not been called upon to say, "Yes, we'll do it that way." Yet the direction of thought is already strongly marked. The foregoing may at least be accepted as a sound forecast.

As to possible compromises, all are agreed that there can be yielding on the fundamentals of control. The proposed Atomic Development Authority cannot be crippled by subjecting its administration to an internal veto by any national member. The right of inspection, anywhere and at any time, as outlined in the Acheson-Lilienthal-Oppenheimer report, cannot be seriously limited. A minority is beginning to feel, however, that the American position on the Security Council veto may be modified. They argue that if inspection is effective, it will serve to discover any future atomic aggressor before his power grows dangerous. They assert further that the other powers, learning that an aggressor is beyond question in their midst, may be counted upon to apply appropriate sanctions with or without the Security Council's authority.

Idea Sacrificed

That would mean, of course, sacrificing the idea of enforcement of a future atomic energy agreement by an international force equipped with atomic weapons and directed by the Security Council. But the compromisers incline to the view that this sacrifice will be worthwhile if true international unity can be achieved, and an atomic armament race thus prevented.

The reasons for the proposed last-minute appeal to Stalin are the same which impel an innocent but condemned man to continue to seek reprieve until the noose is around his neck. As to the establishment of an Atomic Development Authority without the Soviet Union, this is a great step, but a step which will be rendered almost inevitable if the Soviets will not cooperate. It will have the guise, in some sense, of an anti-Soviet grand alliance, yet what else will there be to do, and what objection can be made—always providing that the door is left wide open for the Soviets to join later on?

Certain powers, including the British, have in fact urged that a firm decision to take this step be made without much further delay. London is naturally deeply interested, since Herbert Morrison's planners propose that in ten years's time, atomic power plants shall supply a large share of Britain's industrial energy. The Americans, on the other hand, wish to defer such a grave decision until all other possibilities have been explored.

All are troubled, moreover, by the difficulties that will certainly be encountered when and if the time comes to design an Atomic Development Authority not embracing all nations. For example, inclusion of others besides the United States, Britain and Canada is obviously desirable, since the collaboration of nations having large uranium deposits has evident advantages. But what is to be done about such problems as that of Professor Joliot-Curie?

Role Questioned

Professor Joliot-Curie is both the French expert on the Atomic Energy Commission and a Communist sympathizer. Some feel he has served as Andrei Gromyko's real technical adviser. Certainly the intensity of Professor Joliot-Curie's curiosity as to secret matters, sharply contrasting with the complete "correctness" of the Soviet scientists, has caused considerable disquiet.

In short, there are difficulties ahead. Yet with a clear-headed plan of action already taking shape, it is much too early to say that Soviet cooperation will not in the end be forthcoming. And if it is forthcoming, fate's answer to the life-or-death question of our times will be: "They may live."

TEACHERS

declare their intention to complete a program of teacher training.

"That consideration with necessary reseach be given by the idea of having the state offer scholarships and student loans designed to recruit students into preparation for the teaching profession."

Average Salary $2,010

The report pointed out that the average teacher salary for the year $1945-46 was $2,010 and observed that "the blunt truth is that Ohio must pay more money to the teacher if we are to even begin an adequate solution of the present crisis."

It added that recent salary increses were insufficient to keep pace with the rising cost of living with the result that teachers were drifting into other occupations.

The sub-committee expressed belief that the remedy did not rest in more and bigger local-voted levies.

"We are of the opinion," the report stated, "that the spirit of the foundation school program must be applied through increased state support to the weak school districts. That state support, however, must not be limited to the basis of need except in the light of a raised minimum of foundation standard."

KAPUT! THIS U-BOAT IS NO MORE. In a U. S. Navy test at sea, the black-hulled U-977, a captured Nazi submarine which surrendered at the end of the war, is target for an intensive steam-type torpedo. This magic-eye series of photos gives a graphic picture of the havoc wrought by such topedo fired from the American submarine Atule. Ten seconds after the torpedo scored a hit, the Nazi undersea raider was a mere streak of oil on the water. (International Soundphoto)

MARION CO. FIELDS MECCA OF HUNTERS

Noon Marks Start of Annual Fall Season.

Marion county hunters at noon today joined an estimated one million other Ohio sportsmen in the quest of rabbits and pheasants as the annual hunting season opened. This is expected to be the biggest year for Ohio's hunters since before the war with many ex-G. I.'s anxious to exploit their marksmanship against game to be found in Ohio fields.

In Marion county it was reported that more hunting licenses were sold this year than in the drevious four years. Rabbits will be the most plentiful game in Marion county, according to O. H. Neimeyer, game protector. It is reported, however, that a slight increase in the pheasants has been noticed in some sections of the county.

The advent of the hunting season has had a decided effect on hotels here.

At the Harding it was reported hundreds had filled the hotel. The same situation is reported at the Marion.

Reservations at the Harding date back three months in some cases. Commenting on the present influx R. E. Nelson, room cleck at the Harding, said, "It seems like everybody in Ohio is coming to Marion to hunt."

On Nov. 15, 1933, a complement of 60 men was sworn into the patrol on a snow-covered drill field at Camp Perry, O. after about five weeks of training under supervision of Pennsylvania state police.

In May of 1935, the original 60-man force was doubled, and in 1937 it reached 200. Today the force numbers 287.

The patrol has 31 posts with headquarters in Findlay, Massillon, Wilmington, Cambridge and Columbus. Eleven patrolmen have been killed on duty, nine in highway accidents. Four others lost their lives during military service.

Moser, a native of Upper Sandusky, came to Kenton in 1923 and operated an automobile agency here for 18 years. A veteran of World War I, he and his wife, Dorothy, have two sons, Robert a veteran of World War II, and now a student at Ohio university, and Richard, a high school student.

They are Mrs. Luella Mattix, 20, and her daughter, Elaine. Mrs. Mattix suffered a fractured left shoulder and possible back injuries. The child suffered a fractured right leg.

Seven-months-old Cecil W. Mattix, a son, was thrown out of the car and landed in the middle of the highway but had not a bruise or a scratch to show for his experience, the state patrol said.

The patrol said Mrs. Mattix apparently lost control of her car when a wheel slipped off the highway into loose gravel at the side of the road. The car overturned and landed right-side-up on its wheels. The top and front were damaged.

Pittsburgh Steel Plants Get Set for Big Boom in Production

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH — The powerful Pittsburgh industrial machine, despite reconversion problems and labor unrest, is geared for a volume of production unequalled in its history.

The city's steel corporations, coal companies, department stores and banks have embarked on a multi-million-dollar expansion and development program. General business and trade have reached record levels, even higher than in the peak war year of 1944.

King Steel, pressed by the needs of fabricators, heads the list of money-spenders.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., No. 1 subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corp., and the district's biggest steel producer, has purchased $120,000,000 worth of government-owned facilities. The company's principal investment was for the $86,500,000 Homestead Works

Built by the government for rapid-fire production, the plant has an annual production output of more than 3,000,000 tons of steel. Included in the purchase were several modern furnaces having 70 tons daily capacity each.

To Spend $17,000,000

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plans to spend more than $17,000,000 in Western Pennsylvania. Already the company has invested $12,000,000 for the Tanden Mill at Aliquippa, Pa. J & L expects the plant to increase its output of tin plate by 50 per cent.

The government-owned McKeesport Works, which turned out shells during the war for the McKeesport Tin Plate Co., was bought by J & L for the production of steel barges, mine cars and other industrial equipment.

A J & L spokesman said the company's Pittsburgh and Aliquippa plants now are operating "at full capacity for the production of peacetime steel.

"They are working 24 hours a day, seven days a week," he said.

The Solid Fuels Administration reported that there is a market for every ton of coal that can be trundled from the pits or stripped from the countryside. Although production lagged earlier this year because of strikes, the SFM said more than than 33,000,000 tons of commercial coal were mined in the last pear. Production in August was the highest of any month in recent years—more than 13,000,000 tons.

River Traffic Heavy

The Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers, which meet in the center of Pittsburgh to form the Ohio River, are bearing a greater amount of tonnage than any other port in the nation except New York.

The U. S. Army Engineers reported that industrial traffic at one lock along the Monongahela, near Braddock, Pa., is greater than in any other navigable waterway in the world. The Monongahela is carrying 31,000,000 tons of freight annually; the Ohio 36,500,000, and the Allegheny 3,000,000.

Along the Monongahela, barges are bringing 20,000 tons of coal a day from the ultra-modern Robent mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Co. The Robena—the largest coal mine in the world—has achieved such a high level of mechanized mining that it is known as a "push-button" mine.

The war and the post-war boom in civilian demands has given new blood to at least 600 smaller industries in the Pittsburgh district.

One small concern is turning out hot water heaters by the hundreds and can't fill one-fifth of its orders. Another firm, that produced coal mine cars for years, now is making smokeless stoves for companies affected by the city's new anti-smoke ordinance.

Combined construction contracts for the first seven months of 1946 totaled almost $110,000,000. This represents a dollar volume considerably more than the combined contracts in 1945 and 1944.

Polished plate glass production in Western Maryland was 84 per cent more in the first eight months of 1946 than in the comparable period last year.

The Ohio Institute will be open to all infantile paralysis victims regardless of their ability to pay.

Draft Judge's Retirement Bill for Next Legislature.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15—The Ohio State Bar association, which concludes its fall meeting here today, has decided to renew its fight in the next legislature for passage of a judges' retirement pension bill.

The association adopted a committee report recommending that a bill submitted by Fred M. Reiners of Cincinnati but defeated at the last legislature be amended to raise the retirement age from 60 to 70 and be resubmitted to the new general assembly in January.

woman of the nation over 19 other contestants from 10 states, offered to provide a nurse and stewardess for a private plane trip for the entire Pollock family.

Pollock said it was "preposterous to think of taking four little children on such a plane trip."

Pollock said his wife was sorry for inconveniencing the contest promoters, but would let the title go to an alternate. Mrs. Fredda Acker of Anderson, S. C., placed second in the contest.

Contest Manager Burt Titcomb said in Jackson: "Mrs. America has never relinquished her title to me in any way."

Decision "Spontaneous"

The decision to abdicate her newly won title was "spontaneous" and made by Mrs. Pollock while she was in Jackson, "way down there about a thousand miles from home," Pollock said. She felt, he added, "she shouldn't go out on that six months' deal and leave the children that long for any amount of money."

Her decision, he said, was telephoned to him early yesterday, and Mrs. America cut short her original plans to stay in Jackson for several days.

Mrs. Pollock said she entered the contest to realize an ambition to save $1,000. "Every time I and my husband neared the goal, another baby came or something happened that took the money," she explained.

Mrs. Pollock is five feet, six and a half inches tall, weighs 126 pounds, measures 25½ inches at the waist, 34½ at the bust and 35½ at the hips. Her eyes and hair are brown.

STRIKES

1,000 pilots began Oct. 21 over demands for higher pay for pilots and copilots of four-engine planes. It grounded 115 aircraft along most of the company's 28,000 miles of route on three continents, threw nearly 15,000 nonflying employes out of work and cut off $2,000,000 in weekly revenue to the company.

While initial flights will begin tomorrow, at least two weeks will be required to restore the line's full schedule.

The agreement signed this morning ends the strike by leaving to the decision of a three-man panel a number of disputed points. Most important of these are the rates of pay for pilots and copilots on Douglas Skymasters and Lockheed Constellations flying domestic and international routes; the question of a minimum monthly pay for pilots in the international service, and whether there should be a new bidding procedure for runs.

The pilots originally began seeking new pay scales and working rules for flying four engine equipment more than a year ago.

Ranged to $15,500

Their demands ranged as high as $15,500 a year compared with the company's estimate of $12,000 a year for top paid pilots at present.

Maritime Tieup On West Coast Eases As 1 Union Settles

By The Associated Press

In the west coast shipping strike, settlement of the dispute involving CIO longshoremen, one of three unions, was announced. However, a major barrier in ending the 46-day-old strike was insistence by shipowners on settlement of the CIO-AFL jurisdictional dispute which has tied up the port of Coos Bay, Ore., and assurance against a recurrence.

Another strike, which halted the suger industry in the Hawaiian islands and involved CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union appeared near settlement with announcement from Honolulu that the Hawaiian Sugar Planters association had signed an agreement granting $10,500,000 more yearly to employes.

The agreement must be ratified by the ILWU and by 33 plantations. Ratification would send 25,000 strikers, already idle 75 days, back to their jobs.

The ILWU said the agreement, in lieu of a union shop, guaranteed workers against anti-labor practices. The union had demanded a 40-hour week, but settled for continuance of 48, and won increases in pay, boosting the scale from 41 cents an hour to 70½ cents and ranging to $1.38.

legislative recommendations until all their newly elected colleagues can have a crack at them in a party conference early in January, the senators reportedly decided informally to attempt to bar Bilbo at the door when he presents himself for a new term.

Bilbo, a filibusterer of proved ability, has been named in complaints lodged with the senate campaign investigating committee for his reputed urging of Mississippians to prevent Negroes from voting. The senate war investigating committee also has been inquiring into his relations with a group of war contractors.

At his Poplarville, Miss., home, Bilbo's secretary quoted him as saying "I have done no wrong, and I have nothing to say."

18-Year-Old Navy Vet Admits Killing Mother

By The Associated Press

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 15—Detective Captain Edward J. Kelly said an 18-year-old navy veteran admitted today he beat his widowed mother to death with an iron bar.

Girard Farley was quoted by Kelly as saying:

"I just flew off the handle and killed her."

The widow, 50-year-old Mrs. Mary Farley, was found brutally beaten shortly before last midnight in the second floor bedroom of her home. Her face and head were battered.

Girard previously told police he returned home from a movie at 11:30 p. m. and found his mother dead. Kelly said the room bore evidence of a terrific struggle.

Neighbors reported hearing Mrs. Farley screaming shortly before discovery of the body was announced.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Linoleum Sink Top

Q. Our linoleum sink top needs to be replaced. The sink and tub combination is in constant use and therefore the cabinet top is almost always wet. Could I replace it with aluminum or tile?

A. You would find it easier to get a stainless steel top. Have you asked your plumber about it? Until you can get what you wish, I suggest that you protect the linoleum with a tray of the right size.

Size of Storage Tank

Q. What size storage tank will be needed for domestic hot water for a family of five adults and three very small children.

A. You will probably need a hot water tank with a capacity of at least 60 gallons, and if much laundering is done, 70 or 75 gallons.

Mixing Paint at Home

Q. Can you give me any directions on paint mixing for inside walls? I would like to prepare my own paint.

A. Because of limited column space, I cannot give you a complete description of the methods of mixing and proportioning the ingredients for paint. You can get this information from the Lead Industries association, 420 Lexing avenue, New York 17. When you write for this information, mention the color you want to use. Formulas differ considerably when mixing light and dark colored paint. Amateur paint mixing is not always successful, because there is the possibility of either mixing too much or too little. In the latter case, when there is not enough paint to finish a job, the chances are that the next batch of paint that is mixed will not turn out to be the exact shade as the first, which will be "just too bad."

Waterproofing Sacks

Q. We want to cover a large umbrella for the yard, using feed sacks. Can we treat this material to make it rain and sun-proof?

A. The following formula can be used for waterproofing canvas, but I cannot guarantee just how well it would work on feed sacks. Dissolve one pound of paraffin in one gallon of turpentine. The paraffin should be shaved in fine pieces and the turpentine should be warmed by setting the container in bucket of hot water. Do not heat over a flame—the fire hazard would be too great. To apply the solution, stretch the fabric flat and use a clean whitewash brush. You would save yourself this work if you would take the sacks to a shop that specializes in the waterproofing of fabrics. I do not know of a sun-proof formula. Instead of the above, you might try coating the fabric with an awning paint, on sale at hardware, paint and department stores.

Rusty Nail Heads

Q. I have a frame house, about five years old. It needs painting, but I don't know what do about the nail heads in the siding. They all show rust. Would it be all right to brush them clean with a wire brush and put white shellac on them?

A. First, sandpaper the nail heads to remove the rust. Then, using a nailset, drive the heads slightly below the surface. Apply a priming coat and then fill the small space with putty. Paint can go on over the putty.

Covering a Window

Q. The window in our bathroom is directly over the bathtub and shower. Ordinary blinds become soaked and dirty. We must have something on the window for privacy. What would you suggest?

A. My preference would be for a curtain made of one of the new materials that has a slightly rubbery surface, but looks somewhat like cellophane. An alternative would be to apply a "frosting" liquid, if your paint dealer carries it in stock. If not, you could get a similar effect by patting the glass with a lump of putty softened with a little linseed oil; repeat after 24 hours for drying. This will give the effect of ground glass. The coating can be washed with soap and water, and removed with ammonia. You might consider the installation of a washable window shade.

Rest Of World Settling Affairs Without Big 4

J. M. ROBERTS JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

While the four power foreign ministers continue their struggle over Europe, the rest of the world is gradually going ahead with a pattern of independent settlements.

Although it is apparent that peace in Europe must, in the long run, be made as a whole, a great deal more progress in clearing away much that is merely underbrush might have been made already if there had been more encouragement for local settlements by the countries most directly concerned.

There are indications that, if Italy and Yugoslavia had been asked to submit a proposal of their own for Trieste before the big power interests muddied the waters, a final solution might now be nearer.

Tyrol Called Example

Austria and Italy set the example with their own agreement over the Tyrol. Now their has suddenly emerged a simple solution for Indonesia, which for a long time appeared to be one of the world's knottiest problems. Britain and Egypt are having a tough time, but are going to work out something regarding Egypt's sovereignty. The same applies to British relations with Malaya and Burma, not to mention the tremendous strides made in the Indian case. The French have largely settled serious disputes with Siam and Viet Nam.

Argentina, the one sore thumb in the Americas, gives some signs of conformity with the aims of the rest of the Western Hemisphere. Iceland and the United States have ironed out their own little difficulties.

Direct Negotiation Hailed

On the face of it, direct negotiation would seem to have an edge over the system of placing everything at the disposal of the big powers. That would surely be true if there was not such a vast difference in the complexities of the problems involved. And, of course, direct negotiations have failed in the Chinese situation so far, and it now threatens more and more to involve the big powers.

But all in all, if the Big Four ever finish their job, it appears a big proportion of the world will come into the custody of the United Nations with most regional problems at least temporarily solved.

The UN, of course, is merely "in training" now. It won't really have a job until the trusteeships are arranged, the treaties have been signed, the agreements recorded, and it has a police force with which to keep the peace which is now being arranged.

$45,425 Sought For Union Co. Hospital

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 15—With $45,425 of a proposed objective of $110,000 in funds for the proposed Union County Memorial hospital campaign already reported, members of the organization are preparing for the second week of the campaign. A federal grant of $150,000 is expected to swell the amount of funds to build the hospital to $450,000 as attainment of the present campaign will bring the total funds on hand to over $300,000.

Dr. B. O. Skinner, former state superintendent of education, declared that the hospital campaign was one of the most important things ever to be planned in the county.

Merchant Cashes In On Wrecked Truck

By The United Press

BUTLER, Pa. — J. E. Denniss is a merchant who doesn't miss a trick.

The 75-year-old wholesaler's loaded truck leaped a bank and somersaulted twice. The wreckage looked like a total loss to every one but Denniss. He patched up his bruised eye and set up shop on the scene.

Result: He sold the whole truckload of potatoes, oranges, apples and beer to curious motorists who stopped to "rubberneck" at the accident.

U. S. Steel Head Says No Price Hike Planned

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov 14—Benjamin F Fairless, president of United States Steel Corp today issued the following statement

"United States Steel plans no general increase in steel prices at this time

"It is obvious, however, that the future course of steel prices must of necessity depend on cost trends Foremost among those factors which affect the cost of steel are wages and the cost of raw materials among which are included coal, scrap tin lead zinc, copper palm oil and the cost of purchased goods and services

"This statement does not preclude the possibility that some adjustment in the selling price of certain steel products, which have been and are currently being sold below cost, may become necessary

"Adjustment of delivered prices to reflect increase in the cost of transportation, will be made as heretofore"

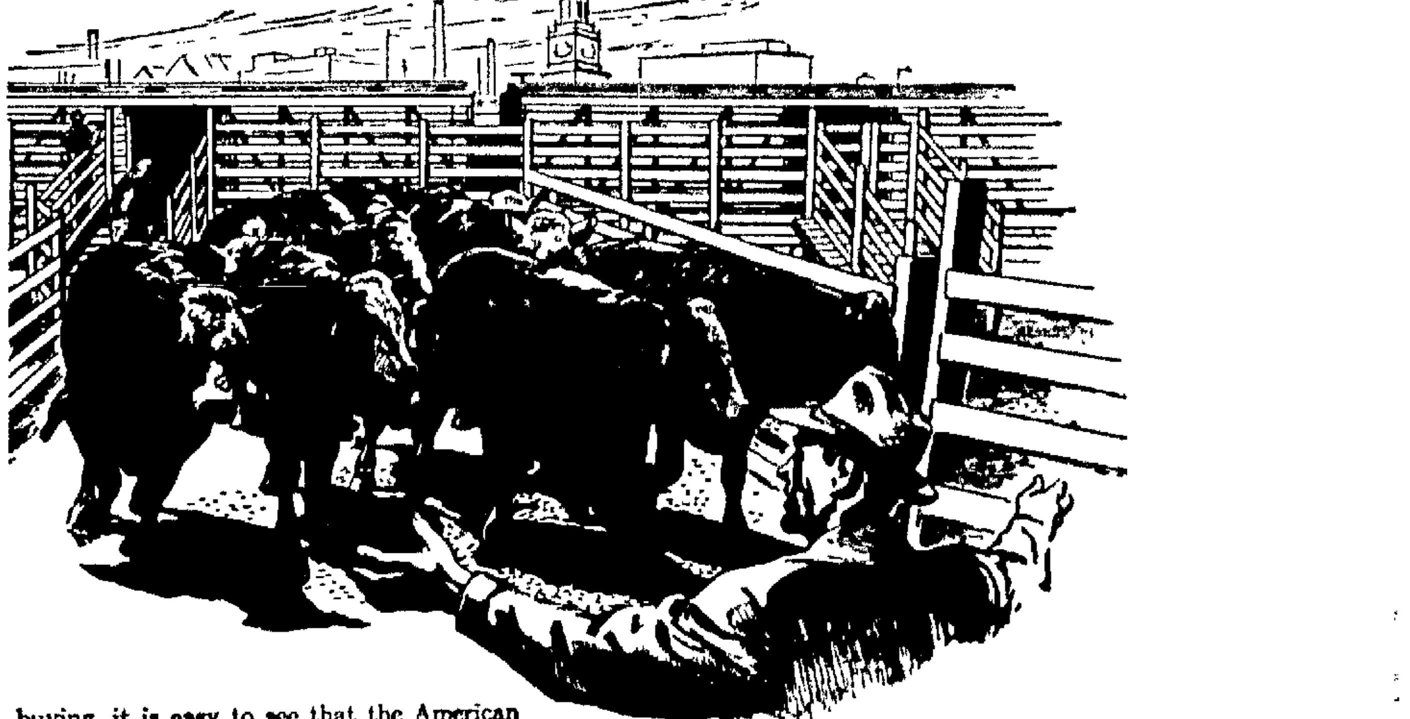
HOTELS for LIVESTOCK



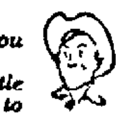
The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United States.

When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.

Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and order buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock buying, it is easy to see that the American livestock marketing system is the most competitive in the world.

These "livestock hotels" are a separate branch of the livestock-meat industry. They are privately owned. Swift & Company does not own a single share of any stockyards company.

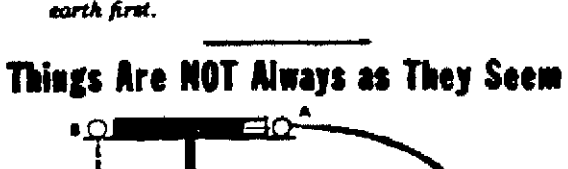
Soda Bill Sez:



. . . to be a success at farming, you have to dig in.

. . . if you want to realize that castle in the air, you had better get down to earth first.

Things Are NOT Always as They Seem



The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant.

In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there were 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage. That is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date . . . and compares with 626 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for seven days

Martha Logan Recipe for APPLE TORTE

Yield: 6 servings

1 tablespoon melted butter
1 egg
4 tart cooking apples
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup nutmeats
½ cup chopped raisins or dates

Pare and chop apples. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine all ingredients. Spread in a 9-inch square buttered cake pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes, or until apples are soft. Serve hot or cold with foamy or hard sauce.

Thanksgiving

In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation—and of many other nations—owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the war, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have . . . but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

SPREAD

When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches, or at meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price we meat packers receive for the meat we sell.

To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, here is what I have learned about spread. We at Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approximately 76¢, on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, glands, and all by-products. That leaves us 24¢ to cover the cost of processing and marketing.

Out of the 24¢ comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products. The cost of preparation and refrigeration. The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6½ billion pounds of products we handle annually.

There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.

PREPARATION OF CORN FOR CATTLE FEEDING

P. S. Shearer

by P. S. Shearer
Iowa State College

How should Corn Belt cattle feeders prepare corn to get best results from their feeding? As ear corn, shelled corn, corn-and-cob meal, or ground shelled corn? The following may be helpful in deciding:

1. Are hogs following the cattle? If not, the evidence seems clear that grinding either the whole ear or shelled corn will pay. Feeding ear corn is especially wasteful if hogs are not following the cattle, or if lots are muddy and the hogs have little chance to salvage corn thrown out of the bunks or passed through the steers.

2. Is the corn hard or soft? Corn varieties differ greatly in hardness of kernel. Grinding hard corn is recommended, whereas grinding might not be needed with softer corn.

3 What will the preparation cost? Costs of shelling and grinding differ from farm to farm due to labor, power and other charges. If the cost exceeds the gains derived, preparation doesn't pay.

4. Will an experienced, careful feeder do the feeding? Corn-and-cob meal is rated as a safer preparation in the hands of inexperienced feeders than either shelled or ground shelled corn.

Corn is a good cattle feed any way it may be prepared and one will not go far wrong with any of the standard preparations. Even our damaged, moldy corn surprised many with its feeding value this past winter.

CLEVELAND AIR SHOW OPENS

Flivvers to Bombers Exhibited as Ten-Day Display Begins.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15—Flying family flivvers, designed to the need of the farmer or the financier, go on display today alongside gigantic, four-engine B-29 superfortresses as the National Aircraft show opens a 10-day stand in the sprawling wartime Fisher bomber plant at Cleveland airport.

"Miss Aviation" and "Miss Airline" are scheduled to snip ribbons at the entrance to the show at 2 p. m. A color guard and band will lead the way down "a stairway of flight," and visitors then will view the biggest display of airplanes and equipment ever assembled under one roof.

From a balcony at the entrance to the show, visitors have a panoramic view of the entire display, ranging from the newest types of planes for personal or family use to the Army bombers and Navy hospital planes. Included in the exhibit are the Army's "Pacusan Dreamboat," which flew over the top of the world from Honolulu to Cairo, and the Navy's "Truculent Turtle," which set a new long-distance flight record in a non-stop hop from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O.

The Army and Navy also have arranged exhibits of full-size fighting craft, bombs guided through television, pilotless aircraft, experimental rocket fighters and the newest jet planes.

COAL

Lewis would continue to dicker, without laying down a flat five-day ultimatum, but there was little optimism among other government negotiators.

"Bawled Krug Out"

This official said the UMW boss "bawled Krug out and called him a stooge for the operators" in the first of their two meetings Wednesday. After walking out in a huff, Lewis returned at Krug's request. They then chatted "pleasantly but without result," the official said.

He pictured Lewis as taking the attitude that Krug was wasting his time in an attempt to patch up an agreement with the mine operators, who have not agreed to the present government-union pact—let alone Lewis' newest demands.

The official said Lewis had mentioned "in purely exporatory terms" the idea of a 44-hour week at the present wage scale, instead of the 54-hour week now worked by the miners.

Answer Could Be Silence

Along with Krug's reported optimism, there was some hope in the industry that Lewis might agree to a short extension of the present agreement to allow time for more negotiations. Hence his answer to the big question today could be continued silence—simply no notice of termination.

The coal mine owners—on the sidelines at the moment—say Krug is striving to win agreement from Lewis to keep the mines working while the operators and miners themselves negotiate a contract which would enable the government to get out of the picture.

Krug seized the mines last May 22 during the two-month spring strike. A week later, Krug and Lewis signed the pact which ended the strike.

Eagles Auxiliary Plans Yule Event

Plans were made for initiation to be preceded by a covered dish supper and Christmas exchange at the next meeting, Dec. 12, by members of the Woman's auxiliary to Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles, last night. There will be no meeting in two weeks because of Thanksgiving.

The team captained by Mrs. Aletis Wharton won a membership contest which ended last night. The losing team was headed by Mrs. Francis Moodie. Two candidates were obligated. A special award was won by Mrs. Maude Whiteman. Entertainment following the business session included showing of motion pictures, "Life in Marion," by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lawson.

Army Workers In Rally Here

Home League Meeting Held at Citadel on North Prospect Street.

Plans for participating in the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the Home League of the Salvation Army and the membership campaign now in progress, were outlined and discussed at the Northern Sectional Home League rally held here Wednesday. Leagues were represented from Lima, Lancaster, Pomeroy, Athens, Findlay, Bucyrus, Tiffin, Springfield, Columbus and Van Wert. Mrs. Bertram Rodda of New York City, territorial Home League secretary and a colonel in the Salvation Army, was the speaker. Here from Cincinnati were Major and Mrs. H. A. Zealley, Major and Mrs. H. E. Weatherley, Adjutant and Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. George Baggs, a major in the Army and Adjutant Beatrice Fowle, and from Columbus was Mrs. James Coates, a brigadier in the Army.

A noon luncheon for Home League locals and a supper for delegates and members of the local advisory board, their wives and husbands, were at the First Evangelical and Reformed church. The sessions, afternoon and evening, were in Calvary Evangelical church.

Plans of the Army are to have an increase of 20 per cent in membership by the time the campaign closes in April. Covers were placed for 150 members and guests at the supper. A welcome was extended to Mrs. Rodda by Miss Louise Caldwell. Motion pictures of the Home League camp at Glendale, O. were shown and for the evening session there was a pageant, written by Mrs. Zealley, "Keys of Peace." Following the pageant the women in the audience presented gifts to be sent to the less fortunate persons in the war ravaged countries and a feature of the evening was a display of dolls dressed and contributed by the Home League members. The dolls, together with wardrobes and trunks will be sent to the children in the war torn countries.

Drug From Alfalfa May Reduce Deaths Due To Blood Clots

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 15—A drug discovered in alfalfa and clover is the subject of a sesearch project here to prevent blood clots which sometimes strike down a heart patient when he seems on the road to recovery.

Dr. Roy W. Scott, professor of clinical medicine at Western Reserve university, recently received two grants totalling $7,000 from the United States public health service, to direct a study at university and city hospitals, on the use of dicumarol, which prevents blood clotting.

The problem centers around coronary occlusion, a condition in which the circulation of the blood is blocked from the heart muscle. Frequently in this disease a clot forms in the heart, and after the patient is up and around, the clot breaks up and travels through the arteries. If it reaches the brain it may cause death or paralysis.

"Dicumarol, a fairly recently discovered chemical, prevents blood from clotting. Administration of the drug, however, must be carefully controlled because excessive amounts may cause hemorrhage," said Dr. Scott. Control is through the administration of vitamin K.

Patients in city and university hospitals will receive carefully controlled doses of dicumarol while Dr. Scott and his associates study the results. Dicumarol was discover in clover and alfalfa when cows who had eaten it died of hemorrhage.

Clark, delegate to the state convention held at Columbus, completed her report. In discussing the work of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Clark quoted from an article by Harold J. Bowers, Ohio supervisor of teacher-education and certification in which it was stated that the per capita cost for public education is $17 while the per capita cost of tobacco is $19, alcohol $51 and cosmetics $15.

Mrs. H. J. Hartsell was appointed director of literature and Mrs. C. J. Scheifler, Mrs. Langdon and Mrs. J. Phillips were named to serve on the social committee. By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 15—Home was the hunter, Policeman Ed Crippen, after five days and 50 miles hiking in a vain search for deer in eastern Washington.

As he prepared to clean a rifle, Crippen raised it to sight through a window—and froze. A three-point buck deer in the garden met his gaze.

It took will power, but Crippen slowly lowered the gun. His home is in a game preserve.

COMPENSATION DENIED VETS OUT ON STRIKE

VA Rules on General Motors Walkout.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—The veterans administration ruled yesterday that three ex-servicemen who were out of work during the General Motors strike last winter can not claim unemployment compensation.

Although such cases are considered on their individual merits, the VA said in announcing the decision, "several thousand veterans in circumstances similar to those of the three appellants may be affected."

Officials of the CIO United Auto Workers union had estimated that 50,000 veterans took part in the General Motors strike alone.

Explaining its decision that the three former servicemen were not entitled to the $20 a week compensation during their 14 weeks of idleness, the VA said in a statement:

"The servicemen's readjustment act, which provides the unemployment allowance, disqualifies any veteran whose unemployment is due to a stoppage of worker because of a labor dispute in which he is directly interested or participating, or who belongs to a grade or class of workers so involved."

STANDARD OIL GRANTS PAY ADJUSTMENT TO ALL HELP

Move Made To Combat Inflationary Trend.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15 — A special four-months wage adjustment for employes of the Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) was announced today by President W. T. Holliday.

The adjustment applies to all employes except those covered by collective bargaining agreements which hequire negotiations and where such negotiations may not as yet have been concluded.

The temporary wage increase covers November and eember, 1946, and January and February, 1947.

Under the company's plan, each employe receiving less than $7, per year will be given a check equal to ten per cent of his total compensation for the previous calendar month.

In a letter to Sohio employes, Holliday said "The Sohio management has been fully conscious of, and duly concerned about the repercussions on the family budget of the recent inflationary race between wages and prices. For the sake of the morale of our whole organization it wishes to do what it can to alleviate this situation in our own organization."

Bullets Boost Output of Oil

Fired in Bottom of Wells To Open Side Holes in Casing.

When they first heard the technicians talking about "precision gun perforating," some correspondents thought it was simply a joke. They soon learned, however, that the science of gun perforation has been developing since 1936, and that French engineers are among the leaders in the field.

Gun Lowered Into Hole

Some of the aspects of this science were explained to the correspondents by John Bell, division petroleum engineer, when they visited the Hawkins Field of the Humble Company near Tyler, Tex.

"The gun," Bell said, "is cylindrical and is generally loaded and lowered into the hole. By passing an electric charge through the cable on which the gun is lowered, each powder charge, which is placed behind the individual bullet, may be set off, following which the bullet penetrates the casing, the cement behind the casing, and the formation, thus providing an opening which allows fluid to enter the well bore. . . The perfection of gun performance was one of the major milestones in well-completion technique."

Bell said that, among other things, gun perforating "affords the selective production of very thin oil sections, minimizing the production of either gas above or water below these thin sections. It is entirely logical to assume that the gun-perforating method of completion has materially added to the producible reserves in the United States by affording production from such thin zones which might not otherwise have been satisfactorily produced."

Thin Oil Layers Tapped

In other words, a thin layer of oil underground, which might not be tapped by the bit of a drill, might, under the right circumstances, be brought into production by a bullet shot.

The guns are from seven feet to 10 feet four inches long, and capable of shooting 12 to 24 bullets without reloading. Each shot is fired independently, and electrically, from the shooting board at the surface. This board looks much like the instrument panel on an airplane, as it has all sorts of recorders, indicators, controls, etc.

When the shooting control is pressed, a filament ignites the bullets, one by one. The equipment is so arranged that the exact position of the shot can be determined in advance, and there is a telephone plug that enables the operator to hear the firing of each bullet.

All the equipment can be carried on one specially-built truck. The rig for the gun can be set up in about an hour, and in about half a day's work all the holes necessary in a well anywhere from 4,000 to 10,000 feet deep can be shot.

MARION FRESHMEN EDGED 13 TO 6 BY BEXLEY GRIDDERS

Invaders Score Winning Tally In Final Moments Of Contest

By GEORGE ROEST

The Marion freshman All Stars battled the Bexley High School reserves to a near deadlock last night at the Stadium, the Lions scoring in the last minute of the contest to win out 13 to 6. Bexley was expected to bring an all freshman team to Marion but having only 13 fresh in their high school out for football they had to carry some sophomores to make up a squad.

Marion drew first blood early in the game on a drive that started on their own 28. Eugene Hypes scampered through the line the first time he carried the mail reeling off 55 yards to the Bexley five. From there, fullback George Browning scooted around left end for a score. Dick Leffler, attempting to run for the point, was smothered by Bexley tacklers.

Bexley Marches

Bexley upon receiving the kickoff from the All Stars marched from their own 44, fullback Bob Barrett sparking the drive, Barrett scoring from the Marion six on a sweep around right end. Scott Imboden running the point was stopped.

After that the game settled down to a sea-saw affair, Bexley's break coming when Zimmerman's punt was partially blocked going only five yards to the Marion 26. On the second play, after Bexley got the ball, Merle Daum intercepted a pass making a ten-yard runback to the 30 where the ball was stolen from him by a Bexley gridder. A pass from Jim Pohlman to Barrett who was good for nine yards to the 21.

Marion Statistics

	Marion	Bexley
First downs	3	7
Firsts rushing	1	6
Firsts passing	1	1
Firsts penalties	1	0
Yards gained rushing	146	145
Yards lost rushing	28	27
Yards gained passing	15	15

Imboden almost broke away, picking up a first down on the eight. Barrett skirted left end for the point and Imboden adding a clinching extra point.

Marion Opens Up

With less than a minute to go Marion opened up with a passing attack quarterback Jack Williams connecting with his receivers twice for a total of 13 yards to mid-field as the game ended.

A glance at the statistics shows how evenly matched the two teams were last night. From scrimmage Marion gained 146 yards while Bexley picked up 145. Although Marion gained a one yard advantage in rushing, they lost 28 yards against Bexley's 27 thus making the net gain for both teams identical

Both teams had a total of 15 yards made through the air thus giving the two teams a total net yardage of 113 yards. Marion was at a disadvantage throughout most of the contest, being forced to punt five times while Bexley only punted once.

Marion's lack of a capable punter also handicapped them, the average distance of the punts being 17 yards.

Marion Guards Good

Probably the players who turned in the top performances last night were Lloyd "Punky" Williams and Jim Seckel, the Marion guards who discouraged all attempts by Bexley to crack the center of the All Star line. Hypes picked up the most yardage for the Marion team, while the Bexley backs Barrett and Imboden did the lion's share of the carrying and yardage tallying for Bexley.

Lineups:

Ruffed Grouse Top South State Game

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15—Ruffed Grouse, while not plentiful, are sufficiently numerous in southeastern Ohio to make that area a rival for the northwestern Ohio pheasant country in the hunting season which opened at noon today, conservation officials said.

Cover is heavy for the wily birds in the southeastern counties, and the swift take-off of the grouse from woodland thickets provides more sport than pheasant shooting in the opinion of many Ohio nimrods, the conservationists explained.

With a record number of hunters, estimated to reach 1,000,000, in the woods and fields, conservation officials asked sportsmen to be especially careful.

Enforcement of daily bag and possession limits of two cock pheasants and four rabbits will be strict during the season which continues through Nov. 30 for pheasant, ruffed grouse and Hungarian partridge and through Jan. 1 for rabbits, the conservation officials warned.

FESLER TO SPEAK

By The Associated Press

IRONTON, O., Nov. 15 — Wes Fesler, Ohio State university football great now coach of the University of Pittsburgh, will speak at an annual dinner for the Ironton High school grid squad sponsored by the Ironton High School Athletic association.

HARDING PLAYS AT SPRINGFIELD TONIGHT

Host Team Has a Blanchard at Fullback.

Harding's gridders will visit Springfield tonight to climax their football season. Entering the contest they will be underdogs, although the coaches express confidence that they will pull an upset.

Springfield is now riding the crest of a two game winning streak which came after a drought of five games and the fact that tonight will be their Homecoming should give them an added incentive to win.

Their team has scoring punch in a fullback named Blanchard. He is only a sub however.

For Harding this is going to be a game in which anything can happen. Some of the things which the Prexies are going to pull are a four man line on defense and a slight revision of the lineup.

The probable lineups for this contest will be Coss and Philliams, ends; Nolfi and Ralston, tackles; Zeisler and Cline, guards; Duer, center; Rea, quarter; Hill and Tillis or Coffey, halfs; Huddle or Richie, fullback.

CAREY HANDS 20-0 JAB TO VAN LUE

Carey's Blue Devils retained their undefeated status playing in a post season contest at Findlay last night. Rallying in the last half they downed Vanlue 20 to 0 in a traditional Handcock county game. Vanlue was supposed to meet Arlington in the contest but because of basketball commitments, Arlington could not play so Carey was invited as an opponent. Approximately 4,000 persons turned out to witness the fracus.

Chalking up the first score of the game in the third quarter, Don Wedge, Carey fullback, picked up 30 yards in a sustained drive and then plunged over for the score. Bob Donelson attempting the point failed.

In the last period Wedge tossed a pair of touchdown passes the first to Donelson and the second to Stram. Gene Newell drop-kicked the first extra point and Bob Wenner place-kicked for the twentieth point.

Lineups:

Carey—20		Vanlue—0
Dennison	LE	Hechtel
E. Orane	LT	Arnett
Newhard	LG	Nye
Welly	C	Norris

Absence Of Krall To Cost Ohio State, Forecaster Says

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15—An internal lateral will beat Ohio State's football team Saturday.

That doesn't mean Illinois will come up with an unheard of aerial maneuver to defeat the Bucks. It's just this pigskin prognosticator's way of picking the Bucks to lose because reserve left halfback Jerry Krall is sidelined with an injured knee.

Krall twisted a ligament—the internal lateral ligament—in his knee against Pittsburgh, leaving Ohio State with only one experienced left half, first stringer Tommy James.

But James is Ohio's secondary defensive ace and Coach Paul Bixler tries to keep him in there all the time when the opposition has the ball, letting him share ball-carrying duties with the speedy Krall.

Without Krall, Bixler indicated James would have "to go most of the way" against Illinois. That means Ohio's offensive efficiency figures to lag. And you can't lag and beat Illinois.

As a comforting thought to Ohio State's legions of rabid fans, let us add that we've been wrong 57 times this year in 154 tries, and the only two times we picked Mount Union to lose, they won.

We can't be so good to the Mounts this week, however, for they look like winners against Ohio Northern.

And in other games on the weekend's 18-game schedule involving Ohio colleges, the winners look like:

Kent State over Akron and Youngstown over Waynesburg in a pair of Friday tilts.

On Saturday, we like: Ashland to regain its winning form against Albion in Michigan; Baldwin-Wallace over Toledo; Bowling Green over Xavier; Cincinnati several touchdowns better than Western Reserve; Wayne to spoil Case's invasion of Detroit; Ohio Wesleyan to start Denison on another losing streak; Wooster to edge Heidelberg Otterbein to boost its scoring lead even higher against Kenyon; Muskingum with little trouble over Wittenberg; Oberlin easily over Allegheny; Defiance over Kalamazoo in Michigan; Findlay over Cedarville, and Miami's Redskins to bounce back from that Florida safety by thumping Western Michigan at Oxford, and Ohio U. to whip Dayton.

Akron Bears On Prowl For Their 7th Victory

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Nov. 15 — Akron's Bears, definitely out of the cub class although still farm hands of the more famous Chicago Bears, seek their seventh victory when they meet the Wilmington, Del., Clippers here Sunday in an American pro football league contest.

After dropping an exhibition game to their papa bears and their first two league starts to the Jersey City Giants and the Bethlehem Bulldogs, Coach Gene Ronzani's Bears won five straight to climb from last place to leadership in the league's Western division.

Wilbur Brown Named Kenton's Most Valuable

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 15 — Wilbur Brown, Kenton High school athlete and halfback on the football team, was chosen by his teammates as the most valuable player on this year's team at the annual football banquet Wednesday evening.

Brown was awarded a wrist watch in appreciation of his efforts. He made 100 points to lead the Western Buckeye League and finished the season with 118 points to his credit in all games.

Brugge Overtakes Souders As O. S. U. Star Pass Nabber

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15 — Speedy Bob Brugge of Parma, who had not caught a pass all season until the Pittsburgh game, now leads the Buck receivers in yardage at 159. He nailed six of Freshman George Spencer's nine completed passes, two for touchdowns. He leads Cecil (Cy) Souders of Bucyrus who has nabbed nine throws for 157 yards.

With Spencer's three touchdown passes, Ohio tallied all its touchdowns through the air for the first time since the Minnesota game in 1939. In that game the late Don Scott, killed in World War II, had three scoring aerials. Charlie Maag added a field goal in that fray.

The Bexley quarterback's amazing 215 yards on nine completions of 13 tries, brought his season's completion record to .613 (19 completions in 31 attempts). He has gained 357 yards by passing this year.

Brugge, who ran brilliantly as a freshman on the 1944 undefeated all-civilian team, has shown spectacular offensive versatility. The "Parma Express" has been used sparingly as a passer, but in the Minnesota game he completed two heaves of three for touchdowns and 71 yards, and ran for one himself. He added 99 yards by rushing in that 39-9 ramble.

Brugge accumulated 83 yards by rushing in the Northwestern thriller, but not until the Pitt game did he emerge as a pass receiver. It saved the Bucks, too, for the Panthers succeeded in throttling his running to a net eight yards.

MEXICAN RAIDERS EYE JOE LOUIS TILT

Jack Kearns Says He Has Offer for Cross-Border Bout.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15—During a lull in raids on American baseball talent, sports-minded Mexican capitalists have set their sights on grabbing the next title defense of heavyweight champion Joe Louis, veteran boxing manager Jack Kearns reported today.

Kearns, former pilot of Jack Dempsey and manager of Cleveland's Joe Maxim, currently ranked No. 3 heavyweight contender by the N.B.A., said he had received a "juicy offer" for a title match between Louis and Maxim at Mexico City this winter.

The amiable "Doc," completing a recent tour with his 23-year-old battler, asserted it was not the "Peso-pitching Pasquel" brothers who made the offer for a championship scrap south of the border, but declined to name the Mexican sponsors interested in "stealing" the match from the United States.

Jeffersonville is Ohio's defending champ.

Ted Williams Gets Plaque As Most Valuable Player In A. L.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, climaxed a brilliant five-year career in the majors today when he was named the most valuable American league player of 1946.

Ted Williams
Most Valuable

The 28-year-old slugger, whose lifetime .353 batting average trails only those of Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby and Joe Jackson, Polled a total of 224 points in the balloting by a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Second place went to Detroit's Hal Newhouser, winner of the award in both 1944 and 1945. The great Tiger lefthanded pitcher, whose 26 victories last season gave him a total of 80 pitching triumphs over a three-year period, received 197 points.

The Red Sox won three of the first four positions. Second Baseman Bobby Doerr, with 158 points, and Shortstop Johnny Pesky with 141, placed third and fourth, respectively.

First Baseman Mickey Vernon of the fourth place Washington Senators, who beat out Williams for the league batting championship with a .353 average to Ted's .343, finished fifth with 134 points.

Bobby Feller, Cleveland's great righthander, who established a season's official strikeout record of 348, and tied Newhouser for the most wins, 26, was the only other player to get more than 100 votes. He placed sixth with 105.

Seventh place went to Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the Red Sox sensational sophomore hurler, who followed up his 21-victory freshman year with a record of 25-6 to lead all pitchers in won and lost percentages, Ferriss received [illegible] points.

Rounding out the first ten were Hank Greenberg, Detroit's slugging first baseman and league's home run champion, [illegible] Dom DiMaggio, Boston's brilliant centerfielder, 56; and Cleveland's manager, shortstop Lou Boudreau, 37.

Eight players received first place votes on the 24 ballots. Williams, who will receive the annual Kenesaw M. Landis plaque received nine. Doerr received five, Newhouser three, Greenberg and Pesky two each. The remaining three first-place ballots went to Vernon, Feller and Ferriss.

Rhode Island Reds Up In Eastern Hockey Loop

By The Associated Press

The Rhode Island Reds are climbing in the Eastern division of the American hockey league. The Providence club moved into third place last night by victimizing the St. Louis Flyers, last-place Western division club.

The Reds won, 4-2, to hang up their third straight victory and pass the Springfield Indians, who were idle. The Hershey Bears still hold a comfortable margin in first place, while the New Haven Ramblers are holding on to the runner-up spot.

600,000 To Witness Ohio State Football

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15 — Buckeye attendance this year is higher for seven games than it was for eight in the record 1945 year when 544,567 fans viewed nine games. In the seven games the Bucks have attracted 463,447, compared to 459,367 for eight games in 1945.

With upwards of 60,000 assured for the crucial Illinois conference game this Saturday at Champaign and a capacity 78,000 for the homecoming Michigan game, Buckeye attendance will soar to 600,000, a figure that will be topped only by Michigan, which has the advantage of playing seven home games in the huge Michigan stadium that accommodates 85,753.

Big 9 Gridders Have Scent of Roses in Air as Coast League Squirms

Western Conference Approves Tieup And Teams Buckle Down

By The Associated Press

[illegible]AIGN, Ill., Nov. 15— [illegible] of roses (Pasadena [illegible] be in the air tomorrow [illegible] first-place Illinois and [illegible] Ohio State collide in a [illegible] will go far towards [illegible] dramatic Big Nine [illegible] before 62,000 at Memorial [illegible].

[illegible] Frank Richert of Illinois, [illegible] of the Western Conference [illegible] committee, yesterday [illegible] the long-awaited announcement that the Big Nine [illegible] to participate in the [illegible] classic.

[illegible] that has to be settled [illegible] Big Nine end of negotiations [illegible] determination of the [illegible] which won't be accomplished until the final round a[illegible] tomorrow.

Several in Running

[illegible] moment, not only Illinois, [illegible] State and second-place [illegible] (3-1-1) which meets [illegible] tomorrow, but also [illegible] and Iowa with 3-2 records [illegible] respective titlists or co-[illegible]. Indiana is idle tomorrow, [illegible] encounters Minnesota. [illegible] Nov. 23, the Ohio State-[illegible] Illinois-Northwestern [illegible] Indiana-Purdue games all [illegible] title bearing, and it's possible that Iowa and Indiana with [illegible] triumphs could finish on [illegible] even with a .667 percentage. That would happen if Illinois [illegible] Ohio State and Northwestern for a final .571; Ohio State beat Illinois but lost to [illegible] for .583; and Michigan [illegible] to Wisconsin and downed [illegible] State for .643.

The [illegible] Illini are favored [illegible] tomorrow off a record of [illegible] over Wisconsin, Michigan, Purdue and Iowa against a one-[illegible] defeat by Indiana. The Buckeyes have only two [illegible] victories against a tie with [illegible] Purdue and a loss to [illegible] Wisconsin. The explosive [illegible], however, haven't lost to [illegible] since 1934 and hold a [illegible] 12 edge with three ties in [illegible] ancient series.

Illini at Top Form

The Illini, freshened by a two-week layoff, will be at their top physical shape of the season, [illegible] especially by return to [illegible] duty of end Bill Huber, former Notre Dame star, and Center-Captain Mac Wenskunas.

Two other ex-Irish performers, [illegible] Julie Rykovich and [illegible] Maggioli, belatedly are [illegible] their grooves, while [illegible] (Buddy) Young, sensational Illini freshman back of [illegible], has had ample time to re-[illegible] from leg ailments which [illegible] him most of the season.

Ohio State's corps of speedy backs, including Bob Brugge, Tommy James, Alex Verdova and Mike Cannavino, may give the Buckeyes an edge in the running attack, but Illinois' Perry Moss figures to be a constant aerial threat with such fine flank receivers as Huber, Bill Heiss, Ike Owens and Sam Zatkoff.

The Buckeyes, who specialize in end sweeps, probably will encounter their strongest rival wingmen of the season against Illinios which is three deep in strong defensive performers at each terminal.

And so, Illibuck III, coveted wooden turtle which is at stake in this rivalry, may waddle back to Illinois for the first time in 12 years.

Texas Passing Ace Hurls Baseball Too

By The Associated Press

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Bobby Layne, Texas' sensational halfback, not only is a stellar pitcher of the pigskin but also is a fine baseball hurler, says Tennessee's Coach Bob Neyland.

"I've seen him throw a baseball 70 yards on a line about shoulder height," says the Volunteers' famed football mentor who himself owns one of the finest amateur pitching records in the country.

Neyland won 35 games and lost five while pitching for the Army in 1914-16. In one stretch he fashioned 20 consecutive victories.

Clemson Football Team of 1900 Hung Up 21 Plus Victory

CLEMSON, S. C. — In the 1900 football records of Clemson college are unqualified victories over Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia Tech. and Davidson, but the score of one game is listed: Clemson 21 plus, Wofford 0.

That simple plus sign covers a multitude of refereeing sins for the late Dr. W. M. Riggs, 1899 Clemson football coach, and later president of Clemson.

Wofford actually was not on the 1900 Clemson schedule. The Tigers were in their fifth season, while the Terriers were nosing around the gridiron for the first time.

J. H. (Uncle Jake) Woodward, Clemson's alumni secretary and the "interferer" (or running guard) on that undefeated, untied Tiger team, says:

"We had just beaten South Carolina badly and Wofford wanted to see how they compared with Carolina. Coach Heismann (the late John W. Heismann) was getting us ready to play Alabama, so Clemson and Wofford got together for a practice game."

Miles N. (Buster) Hunter, Clemson's 100 fullback now of Hattisburg, Miss., remembers: "It was agreed by the managers and captains of both teams that Clemson would not make more than four touchdowns." Touchdowns were five points then.

"We made 'em pretty quick," claims James Lynah, Clemson's right end who now lives in Bluffton, S. C. "It even has been said that we scored four touchdowns on four running plays, but I don't remember."

One well-known version is that Clemson scored four quick touchdowns and gave the ball to Wofford for the rest of the game, but Woodward, Hunter, and Lynah won't let Referee Riggs off as light as that.

"After we scored four times," says Hunter, "we would let Wofford worry with the ball a while, then we'd force them to kick. We would march right down the field, with some short gains and some long ones, but if we scored a touchdown, Riggs would manufacture a penalty somehow. Several times we punted on first down."

Referee Riggs really threw the penalty book at the Tigers that bright October afternoon in Spartanburg. He nullified one Clemson touchdown because the runner used "unsportsmanlike conduct" by running over a Wofford tackler instead of side-stepping him.

"Once or twice our quarterback got very dictatorial," recalls Buster Hunter. "He would call the Clemson ball carrier by name and tell him to go around right or left end or through center for a touchdown. If he did, Professor Riggs came right up with another penalty."

The next week Clemson went to Birmingham and spanked Alabama 49 to 0. Other scores of the year, all Clemson wins, were: Georgia 39-5, South Carolina 51 0, Virginia Tech 12-5, and Davidson 64-0.

The 1900 Tigers turned in the only undefeated, untied seasonal record in Clemson's 50-year football history. The nearest approach was eight victories against a one-point loss to Tulane by Coach Jess Neely's last Clemson team in 1939. That was All-America Banks McFadden & Co., 6-3 Cotton Bowl winners over Boston college.

JOHN MASTRANGELO
Veteran Notre Dame Guard

While everyone and his brother continue to discuss the quarterbacking of Arnold Tucker, Army senior, and Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame sophomore, two Irish linemen have stepped to the front for All-America consideration.

They are End Jim Martin, 22-year-old freshman from Cleveland who served 30 months in the Marines, and Guard John Mastrangelo, 20, from Vandergrift, Pa.

Martin grounded a Tucker pass, tackled Glenn Davis from the rear, recovered an Irish fumble and caught a Lujack pass for a first down in the 0-0 tie with Army. Mastrangelo, a veteran of two previous South Bend teams, has been a bulwark in the middle of the line all season.

Army, Irish Again Share U. S. Football Spotlight This Week

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — Army and Notre Dame again share the spotlight on tomorrow's college football program and other important tussels dot the nation, but the fans will have to wait at least one more week to crown conference champions and learn the identity of most of the bowl opponents.

Army, still recognized as the No. 1 team despite its scoreless deadlock with Notre Dame, invades Franklin Field at Philadelphia to meet the Quakers of Pennsylvania, who might be leading the parade today had they not stubbed their toes on Princeton a couple of weeks ago.

Irish Meet Northwestern

Back home at South Bend, Ind., Notre Dame will be challenged by a Northwestern team attempting to atone for its two defeats this season, both suffered on the two most recent Saturday afternoons.

Georgia and UCLA, the only major teams still undefeated and untied, will be busy meanwhile with opponents who aren't likely to alter the situation. Auburn, which has been slapped down four times running, engages Georgia at Columbus and lightly-regarded Montana invades UCLA.

In the red hot Big Nine race, Ohio State will be at Illinois, Wisconsin at Michigan and Iowa at Minnesota. It would take a combination of an Illinois victory and a Michigan defeat to enable the Illini to sew up even a portion of the conference title.

Big Battle Next Week

If Ohio State knocks Illinois out of the lead and Michigan wins as it figures to do, the championship and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl will rest on the Buckeye-Wolverine battle the following week.

In the Big Six, where the title probably won't be decided before Thanksgiving day, front-running Missouri will be at Oklahoma, Iowa State at Nebraska and Kansas at Kansas State.

Princeton will go to Yale, Dartmouth to Cornell and Brown to Harvard in the Ivy league while other eastern headliners send Lafayette to Columbia, Penn State to Navy, Tennessee to Boston College, Colgate to Syracuse and Fordham to NYU.

MARSEILLES CAGERS OPEN

The Marseilles High school first home basketball game of the season will be played Saturday, at the school with McCutchenville as their opponent. The reserve game will get underway at 7:30 p. m. with the varsity to follow. It is not a county league game.

TOLEDO PRO CAGERS BOW TO ANDERSON

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—Anderson, Ind., remained in the undefeated class in the National basketball league race today, after handing the Toledo Jeeps their first defeat in three starts, 51 to 50, last night at Toledo. The win was the second straight for Anderson.

In a second league contest, the Syracuse Nationals turned back the Youngstown Bears 67 to 64, at Syracuse. In an exhibition contest at Baltimore, the Baltimore Bullets of the American League defeated the Chicago Bears of the National league, 57 to 55.

The Andersons closed strong in the second quarter to take a 33 to 19 half-time lead and the Jeeps never closed the gap. Guard Howie Schultz was high scorer for the Andersons with 14 points. For Toledo, forward George Sobek former Notre Dame star, topped the night's scoring with 22 points.

Although Syracuse trailed Youngstown by 11 points at one point in the first half, it rallied and, paced by center Johnny Gee who plunked in a 17-point total, took an 11 point lead in the final quarter. The Bears' guard, Paul Herman then dropped in three baskets to narrow the gap as the nationals attempted to freeze the ball.

The victory was Syracuse's first in three starts.

No lague contests are scheduled tonight. Tomorrow, Toledo is at Buffalo; Syracuse at Rochester, and Sheboygan at Oshkosh.

GALION CARS COLLIDE

GALION — A coupe driven by Carl Edler of Galion was so badly damaged when it collided with a truck driven by Allen D. Poast of route 1, Galion at South Market and Atwood streets, Wednesday at 6:20 a. m. that it had to be towed from the accident scene. The truck also was damaged.

Police also reported cars driven by Kenneth Hayes and Warren Bayles both of Galion collided when Hayes was making a turn into Zimmerman avenue and Bayles was attempting to pass the Hayes car.

Walcott-Ray Scrap on WMRN Tonight

Two of the hardest-hitting heavies in action today—Jersey Joe Walcott (above), Camden, N. J., and Elmer "Violent" Ray of Minneapolis, Minn., clash tonight at Madison Square Garden in a ten-round shindy.

Walcott turned in one of the most startling upsets of the 1945-46 fistic season by trouncing the high-ranking Jimmy Bivins. Foxy and strong-armed, Jersey Joe puts plenty behind his punches. He's also a masterful boxer.

Ray is one of the few men in boxing who can polish off an opponent with a single sock. During the past three years he has compiled an imposing record of 47 consecutive victories—42 opponents having been left colder than winter in Murmansk.

ARMY, NOTRE DAME PICKED TO TRIUMPH

Forecaster Says Cadets at Penn Will Have Hardest Job.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—Army and Notre Dame remained unbeaten last Saturday by playing their spectacular scoreless deadlock in New York's Yankee Stadium and this observer predicts that both will have the same unsullied record when tomorrow's game are finished.

A worn Army eleven likely will have the harder task tomorrow, taking on Pennsylvania, but the Cadets should show new life. However, the Quakers have the ability to end Army's unbeaten string abruptly, especially if an early break comes their way.

Northwestern's lack of an adequate passing attack should make Notre Dame's task of remaining among the unbeaten easier than Army's job.

Johnny Lujack's sprained ankle has had 10 days to heal and it may be that the Irish will glide to victory on his passing.

Other selections:

Illinois over Ohio State: Both of these clubs got off to a slow start but today they are probably as strong as any mid-western outfit with Illinois, victor over Michigan, the more consistent.

Arkansas over Southern Methodist: Arkansas, step child of the Southwest conference for years has a chance to tie for the 1946 crown by defeating the Mustangs. The Porkers won't miss their chance.

Yale over Princeton: The Yale line has solidified at last and the quarterbacking problems have been eliminated.

Tennessee over Boston college; Oklahoma over Missouri; Georgia over Auburn; Stanford over Washington State; Louisiana State over Miami; North Carolina over Wake Forest; Navy over Penn State; Iowa over Minnesota.

Middlewest: Michigan over Wisconsin, Marquette over Michigan State; Kansas over Kansas State; Nebraska over Iowa State, Miami (Ohio) over Western Michigan.

MUELLER HAS DAUGHTER

By The Associated Press

Bowl Big Shots In Middle As Army, Midwest Loop Await Bid

Special to The Star

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15—The Pacific coast conference found itself today in the middle of a Rose Bowl muddle.

In this corner was the eager Big Nine, which yesterday announced formal approval of participating in the bowl. In that corner, blushing Army, just waiting to be asked. In the middle, the perplexed Coast conference, cast in a puzzling dual role of wooer and wooed.

Trying to avert a shotgun wedding and perhaps arrange a truce, Dean Stanley B. Freeborn of California, president of the conference, called a special meeting next Tuesday at Berkeley, to which a five-man committee from the Big Nine, headed by Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson, will fly.

Army's Jaw Drops

The Big Nine's move probably left drooping jaws in the war department, Washington, and at West Point, where Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the military academy, earlier said:

"Normally the Academy is solidly against any extension of the normal season, but this year there are plainly exceptional conditions which may warrant special consideration."

But, without elaborating, the superintendent added no bid had been received by Army.

With the war department apparently very much interested in sending the Kay-dets, including Southern California's own Glenn Davis, on the Pasadena jaunt, the Coast conference is faced with a situation calling for kid-glove diplomacy.

"If this isn't handled properly," said sports editor Rube Samuelsen of the Pasadena Star-News, "somebody's going to be awful mad."

Both he and Paul Zimmerman, Los Angeles Times sports editor who broke the story about Army's willingness, urged the PCC to take its time about answering the Big Nine.

Any Big Nine choice this year will have at least two defeats or ties against its record, Zimmerman added.

"In Army we can have the best there is in football—a team that has not been beaten in three years," Zimmerman wrote. "If Army should lose to Pennsylvania tomorrow it still would be better than any team in the country."

Here's How Dyer Outsmarted Ted

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON — Manager Eddie Dyer of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals will let you in on how Ted Williams was stopped in the World Series.

Eddie says he knew better than to needle Williams and make him mad. "Why that guy would have torn the fence down with base hits," Dyer declared.

Instead he kidded Ted along. "We have a single-wingback formation with man in motion for you today," he'd tell Williams. After Williams got away with a bunt against Eddie's defense Dyer told Williams: "Well, we'll still have the man in motion."

Another stunt was to have Joe Garagiola, the Cardinal catcher, talk in Italian when Williams came to bat. Ted would be trying to figure out what Garagiola was saying and let the strikes go by.

Improved Diet For Older People Urged By Health Officials

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15—Public health programs and medicine, by prolonging life, have increased the nation's population of aged people and must accept responsibility for their well-being.

So says a report by the committee on nutritional problems of the American Public Health association, which closed its 74th annual convention yesterday.

Specifically, the committee report urges the Aphas' food and nutrition section to assume a share of the responsibility for improving the diet for older people.

Adult food habits tend to become worse with age, the report notes. Increasing food dislikes and prejudices reduce the variety of diet, with the result that nutritional foods such as green and yellow vegetables, citrus fruits, tomatoes and milk, are least likely to be used sufficiently in homes of persons over 60, the committee says.

The association Wednesday passed resolutions urging the reporting of milignant diseases to health departments as part the cancer control program; proposing equal pay and opportunity for persons in public service, regardless of race, color or creed, approving the world health organization, recommending school lunch programs taking into consideration nutritional, sanitary, educational and economic aspects.

Dr. Harry S. Mustard, dean of the school of public health, Columbia university, is the new president of the association. He succeeds Dr. John J. Sippy of Stockton, Calif.

YOUR HEALTH

High Blood Pressure

The best thing we know about high blood pressure today is that one doesn't have to die of it. In fact, according to Dr. Albert Weinstein of Tennessee, the mere finding that a patient has high blood pressure does not mean that his life will be shortened. Many, many such people can look forward not only to the normal span of life but can, with slight restrictions, enjoy it in the normal way. Barring accidents, the person with high blood pressure can usually be expected to live at least the calculated average life-span of 65 years.

In the years since the turn of the century, when it first became possible to make accurate measurements of the blood pressure, we have learned a great deal about the problem of high blood pressure and yet its exact cause still remains a mystery.

We know that it has a tendency to run in families and that it apparently occurs more often in those who are overweight than in those who are normal or underweight. There are certain diseases which seem to cause high blood pressure, but in the great majority of cases—95 per cent—there seems to be no discoverable cause for the condition. This type of high blood pressure is known as essential hypertension.

In view of the fact that the exact cause of all cases of high blood pressure has not been found it is to be expected that a variety of treatments should be employed for it. Among these treatments are the use of such preparations as potassium thiocyanate, phenobarbital, which is a sedative or quieting drug, and large doses of vitamins A and C. Potassium thiocyanate does help to lower the blood pressure, but its use must be carefully supervised by the doctor. It often causes a feeling of depression and exhaustion and there may be certain severe complications.

Large doses of vitamins A and C have also been employed and seem to give good results in certain cases. However, in other instances their use has not been productive of any benefits.

Dr. Weinstein believes that the best form of treatment is to have the patient develop sensible habits of living and working to be moderate in all things, to limit the use of tobacco when it is found that it does raise the blood pressure. He advises against taking the blood pressure too often and against fixing in the patient's mind that his blood pressure is so many points above normal. A well-balanced, moderate diet should be employed, and an effort made to bring the patient's weight to a normal level.

Circleville Man Back Home—in Local Jail

Currently Wilson is serving out a $25 fine and $12 costs for intoxication. Sentenced Nov. 12, he will be released Nov. 24.

Sheriff Radcliff said he expected Wilson, who gave his address as "the jail," to be back with him in time for Thanksgiving dinner, Nov. 28.

Mt. Gilead Man Held To Jury on Theft Charge

Lester L. Lemley, 38, of Mt. Gilead, charged with grand larceny by the Universal Cooler division of International Detrola, pleaded guilty to the charges in municipal court Thursday morning and was bound over to the grand jury on $2,000 bond. He was returned to the county jail when he failed to provide bond.

The Mt. Gilead man, an employe of the Universal Cooler for the last three and one-half years, is charged with the theft of $40 of electrical equipment and motors from the division's shops.

He was arrested Tuesday noon at his home in Mt. Gilead by the Marion county sheriff's office. The equipment found in Lemley's possession had been taken over a period of considerable time, the sheriff's office said.

Cleveland City Life Proves Fatal to Deer

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15—A one-point buck deer which wandered too far in the eastern edges of the city had to be destroyed by agents of the animal protective league because it had broken a leg while hurdling fences.

Caught on East 144th street, the animal probably grazed its way into the city through Shaker Heights, said Martin B. Ahern, a deputy of the league.

The 120-pound carcass will be given to a county institution.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — Opera returns to the networks Saturday afternoon for its fifteenth season of weekly broadcasts from the Metropolitan stage in New York. The production is Verdi's "Otello," with Torsten Ralf, Stella Roman and others.

As usual the network will be ABC under the same sponsorship as that prevailing since 1940. Opening time is 2 p. m. In addition, the three features used heretofore to fill in for the intermission periods are being retained. They appear in this order: Opera Quiz conducted by Olin Downes, Opera News with Boris Goldovsky and Opera Roundtable in charge of Sigmund Spaeth.

While the networks get back to the wider-variety football schedule of a game apiece Saturday afternoon, one of the contests is to be heard on two of them in part. Because of its opera schedule, ABC has concluded its gridiron activities for the season. The list:

From Boston, Tennessee vs. Boston College—1:45 p. m. on NBC.

From Philadelphia, Army vs. Penn—2:00 over MBS, most of the network.

From Champaign, Ill., Ohio State vs. Illinois—2:15 to CBS and to the New York-Buffalo circuit of MBS, with the rest of the network to be hooked on at the conclusion of Army-Penn.

Army-Penn also is to be televised for the Philadelphia and New York areas.

Dialing Tonight: NBC — 8 Paul LaValle melody; 9 People Are Funny; 9:30 Waltz Time; 10 John Beal in Mystery Theater.

CBS — 7:30 Meredith Willson music; 8:30 Thin Man drama; 9 Ginny Simms show; 10 It Pays To Be Ignorant; 10:30 Ann Sothern's Maisie.

ABC — 8 Court of Missing Heirs; 8:30 This Is FBI; 9:30 The Sheriff; 10 Boxing Elmer Ray vs Joe Walcott.

MBS — 8 Burl Ives recorded songs; 8:30 Love Story theater; 9:30 Spotlight Band, Harry James; 10:30 Meet the Press, Paul Griffith.

All times given are Eastern Standard Time. Erroneous listings, if any, are caused by last-minute changes made by stations and networks.

STOCKS BEGIN SLOW RETREAT IN MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—Stocks, with scattered exceptions, negotiated a slow retreat in today's market.

Advances were posted for Pfizer, in the wake of a boosted extra, and Standard Oil of Ohio, on a 2 per cent stock disbursement. A good profits compilation buoyed Columbia Gas.

Stragglers included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, North American, Public Service of N. J., Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Standard Oil (NJ), American Smelting, Allied Chemical and J. C. Penney.

Strength of grains and improved cotton futures aided sentiment for stocks. Bonds were narrowly mixed.

Among curb gainers were Crowley Milner, American Gas and Textron. Backward were Pantepec and Raytheon.

WE OLD FOLKS GOTTA STIR OUR STUMPS, OR A LOT OF YOUNG WHIPPERSNAPPERS WILL TAKE OUR TOWN AWAY FROM US
ALL THEY KIN THINK OF IS SPEED, NOISE, AN' TEARING EVERYTHING DOWN, SO THEY KIN START LEAPIN' AN' JUMPIN' TO BUILD IT UP AGAIN—
YOU FOLKS KNOW SALVATION ROCK WAS ALWAYS A QUIET, FRIENDLY TOWN — AN' IT DIDN'T HAVE ANY MODERN IMPROVEMENTS—
DON'T LET THE YOUNG LATHER-BRAINS STAMPEDE US—REMEMBER, THIS WAS A HAPPY TOWN BEFORE OLD NICK INVENTED SLACKS, PEROXIDE AN' CAN OPENERS—

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

AN old and familiar feeling of frustration seized me as I watched my father walk toward his own wing with "Mr. K", his trusted FBI aide at his side.

I knew that they were going to pick up Harry Underwood at the wing, and with him proceed to the secret subterranean room where Hugh Grantland was watching over his ailing Chinese friend, Lee Chow.

Their subsequent procedure was as vividly apparent to me as if I were behind a camera trained on their conference. They were going to discuss the disquieting news brought by Bertha Kent to me.

Aware of Implications

That was the fly in my ointment. The message had been brought to me, and I flattered myself that I was fully aware of all the bewildering implications which her astonishing words had presented. Yet I had not been asked to go down to the secret room for this highly important conference. Indeed, my father had given me no inkling whatever of what his own reaction was to the news.

I knew how mean and ignoble this attitude of mine was. I reminded myself sternly that I was a soldier in the ranks, and that my only ask was to obey unhesitatingly any command of the "Chief's," and that it was not my province to question any decision of his. But the feeling of pique persisted, as I went into the kitchen, to check on things with Katie

The Cookie Jar

Junior and Roderick were already there, and there was a cookie jar between them.

"Boys!" I expostulated. "You don't mean you're eating cookies after that dinner you just put away! You'll be ill"

"My cookies nefer hurt nobody," Katie protested. "Nobody nefer nefer get seeck eating my cookies."

"All right, all right," I said wearily. "I won't dispute that. But I do want to ask you this. Have your trays gone up to my father's wing, and to the secret room?"

"Sure ting," Katie replied from her seat at the kitchen table opposite Jim where they were comfortably eating their own supper

"Do you tink?" she added rhetorically, "dot I seet down mineself to eat, or let dot Jeem stuff heemself wit eferything on table eef I no haf fed dose poor seeck folks?"

The Four Trays

"Efery vun t your trays go oop," she went on, "two beeg vuns mit efery ting ve haf on table, und two trays dot Meesis Bickett tell me shoorst how to feex"

"Thank you, Katie," I said "Get to bed as soon as you can"

Katie hooted a bit impudently

"Me, I'd look fine going to bed ven somebody still hoongry in house," she said.

"Why," I said bewildered, "who is still hungry?"

Then I remembered Harry.

"I understand," I said, "and I am afraid you will have to wait a little while. My father has taken Mr. Underwood down to the secret room with 'Mr. K'"

"Oh, sure ting!" Katie said airily. "Und I bet your boots. I kin tell what dey're talking about—dot feesh story Meesis Kent brought in tonight"

"It isn't right for either you or me to have any thought on that subject," I reminded her sharply.

"Oh, oh!" she moaned. "My beeg foot in my mouf again!"

"Suppose you take it out," her husband suggested sardonically, and with a summoning gesture to the boys, I left the kitchen.
